Marin Cleric 'Walks Tall' In Alabama

Hub Seminary President, Baptist Student March

San Francisco Theological Seminary president Theodore A. Gill was among 300 persons making the entire civil rights march from Selma to Montgomery, Ala., this week, two fellow Marin Presbyterians reported on their return from Alabama today.

Meanwhile, a student at Golden Gate Baptist Seminary in Strawberry—who may be the first representative of the Southern Baptist Conference to enter the civil rights demonstration—left yesterday to join the marchers.

He is Anthony J. Vos of Shreveport, La. He was given a sendoff by 44 students, faculty members and others when he left the county heliport on Richardson Bay. He is expected to march into Montgomery tomorrow.

Dr. Gill was allowed to stay with the marching throng when it reached the point where the Jefferson Davis Highway (U.S. 80) narrows and many marchers had to drop out.

'VERY PROUD'

"He is walking tall, and we are very proud of him," reported Rev. David G. Glauner, assistant pastor of Tiburon's Westminster Presbyterian Church, who flew back last night.

With Glauner was seminary senior Leo M. Marmol of 103 Woodland Avenue, San Anselmo. They flew down Friday along with Gill and several other Bay Area clergymen.

Marmol said his greatest concern now is to encourage Marin persons to "keep the food rolling" to Alabama so Negroes will not starve if they are subjected to economic boycott by whites after the march is over.

Likelihood of this was shown when a small airplane dropped leaflets on the marchers. The leaflets said the white Citizens' Council "promotes selective, hiring, firing, selling and buying—an unemployed agitator doesn't agitate."

WILL JOIN

Douglass J. Quiett, president of the Marin County Congress of Racial Equality, said he planned to join the marchers near Montgomery this afternoon until they made their last overnight stop about two miles from the city. Several name entertainment figures are expected to appear at their stopping point tonight.

Dr. Albert E. White of Mill Valley, who returned Monday from Selma, said today he went there "as a human being first and a physician second."

White, a Mill Valley city councilman, helped set up medical arrangements for the march. He gave physical examinations to

NOVATO ONLY EXCEPTION

Whiskers Aplenty In Most Schools

By JEFF GREER

Two more Novato High School students were smooth-faced and in class today, after being involuntarily "scratched" from the annual Novato Western Weekend whiskerino contest they planned to enter.

Vice Principal Joseph Garguilo yesterday enforced the Novato High student handbook rule against beards, for the third and fourth times in a week.

"Get rid of the beards or don't come to class," he warned Mike Moore of 731 Orange Street and Landy Gjerde of 7060 Redwood Highway. The boys complied, but not without grumbling about other schools' bearded youth—and faculty.

All the rest of the county's high schools take an easy-going attitude about beards and such, true to the tradition of the Great West. In fact, there's even a campus-wide beard contest going on at Novato High's closest neighbor, Terra Linda High.

In San Rafael, both students and faculty sport beards. At Redwood High, Principal Donald Kreps holds firmly that "there's

Phone Campaign Hits Unification

'Pupils Will Be Moved'

By BRUCE COLEMAN

A telephone "whispering" campaign was revealed today in Southern Marin in which the caller asks: "Did you know that, under the Unruh Act, if you approve unification your child may be bussed to Marin City without parent's permission?"

The campaign was denounced as "depressing" by Mrs. Gloria Melbostadt of Mill Valley, a trustee of Tamalpais High School Distrirct.

CLOSEST TO HOME

G. R. McConnell, Mill Valley School District superintendent, said such bussing would be possible in a Tamalpais Unified School District but added, "it is common practice in school districts to assign children to schools closest to their home."

Mrs. Eva Jean Barker of 343 Summit Avenue, Mill Valley, said she received a telephone call from a candidate for Mill Valley School District trustee who asked: "Do you realize that, under the Unruh Bill, if there is unification, that those pupils living in the present Mill Valley School District will be without any parent's permisable to be bussed to Marin City sion?"

'DARNED MAD'

"I am so darned mad over the call," Mrs. Barker said.

"A friend of mine called," she added, "saying she was so upset about unification because of a telephone call she received in which she was told positively that children are now being bussed from Tiburon to Novato."

Reed School District officials and a representative of the county superintendent of schools office said no pupil from Tiburon is bussed to Novato. Four Tiburon pupils in the special education program are taken by bus, two to Mill Valley, two to Bel Aire school.

"It is depressing," said Mrs. Melbostadt, "when rumors based solely on fear and conjecture become the prime issue of an elec-

MORE POPULATION FOR MARINCELLO

Master Plan Increases Figure To 31,660; Frouge Wants Density Restrictions Eased

The proposed City of Marincello on 3,138 acres of Golden Gate Headlands hills and valleys is not yet a reality but already it is growing.

Originally announced as a city of 25,000, it is now planned for an ultimate population of 31,660.

This was disclosed in the master plan filed with the Marin County Planning Commission by the Frouge Corp., developers.

In the master plan pamphlet, New York developer Thomas Frouge asks elimination of density restriction under the present planned community regulations.

He wants to be "unfettered by stereotype" restrictions.

County ordinance allows maximum density of 3.5 family units per acre.

Frouge's master plan proposes 396 acres of low density with 2.75 residential units per acre, 369 acres with medium density of 10.8 family units per acre, and 459 acres of high density with 19.2 family units per acre.

The plan also proposes 199 acres of retail business, 466 acres of general commercial and 249 acres of light industry.

Full development will be completed by 1985, the pamphlet says, and by that time peak traffic generated will be 3,850 cars in a peak rush hour.

The plan proposes two major access routes to the city, one from Waldo Grade and the other from Tennessee Valley Road. There would also be two accesses from a road extending east of Rodeo Lagoon.

Frouge estimates $2,777,000 in local taxes above the cost of county services, will be generated each year when the city is fully developed.

Viet Reds Say Asian Hordes To Bury Yanks

COMBINED UPI & AP

The Communist Viet Cong threatened today to bring "hundreds of millions" of Asians into Viet Nam if the U.S. air raids continue against the north. It said the foreign troops would "wipe out and bury" Americans.

Even as the Communists were broadcasting their threat South Vietnamese planes with U.S. Air Force jet fighter cover attacked military targets in the north for the fourth consecutive day. The principal target was a radar station near Dong Hoi.

Hub Residents Renew Hawthorne Hills Fight

By FRANK FARRARA

San Anselmo City Council chambers were jammed last night as residents renewed their fight against a planned community development above Hawthorne Hills.

There were about 65 residents, some standing in the doorway to the council chambers and others in the hallway, to protest the proposed rezoning.

After a two-hour hearing the council, concerned about drainage and access problems, postponed action for two weeks and asked for a report from Public Works Director Richard Sypher. A motion by Councilman Cedric E. Clute to approve the rezoning failed to get a second.

Under consideration was an application by William Clyde of Land Planning Inc. of San Anselmo for rezoning from single-family residential to planned development.

Residents contended the proposed development of 71 homes on 20 acres would create massive problems.

Douglas C. Lindauer of 76 Valley Road, a spokesman for the objectors, said 350 had signed a petition of protest. There were 256 signatures to a similar protest last August, he said.

Planning Commissioner Charles R. Leitzell said the planned cluster development would result in fewer homes than single-family zoning, with

County Faces Costly Jump For Welfare

If Marin County continues to follow its present standards, the cost of welfare to local taxpayers next fiscal year will go up about $400,000 or 28 per cent, County Administrator Alan Bruce said today.

Bruce said he is studying criteria in the department of social services that are not governed by state and federal laws with the hope of chopping this figure down "substantially."

He made the announcement today after a budget session with Betty Presley, head of the department.

"The rising costs of social services are becoming intolerable to local taxpayers," Bruce said.

Budget sessions with county department heads began this week and will continue through next week.

Monday Bruce met with officials of the department of social services and probation department. Today he was closeted with Donald R. Frost, director of public works.

Speeding Driver Killed By Police

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A speeding driver was killed last night in a running gun battle along the ocean beach highway in San Francisco, police reported.

Police said the dead man, Knute A. Besk, 23, of San Francisco, was cited earlier in the evening for colliding with a number of parked cars and leaving the scene without making a report.

Governor: 'Not Active Candidate'

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown emphasized again today his determination to withhold announcement on his political future until "late this year or possibly early next year."

The gorernor, who returned last night from Washington, said, "I have enough of a problem administering the state government without becoming an active candidate now."

Taxi Drivers Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Thousands of taxicab drivers struck here today in a massive demonstration for recognition of a new union by cab owners, the Taxi Drivers Organizing Committee.

Ambulance Firm Back In Business

After being out of business for 12 days, Marin Ambulance Service, operated by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parker of 4 Ward Avenue, Larkspur, went back into operation yesterday.

Mrs. Parker said they have decided to resume without any financial backing, but have promises that cash will be available if it is needed to continue.

The company folded on March 11 because operational bills could not be met. In a move to prune costs, the couple have retained only one ambulance to cover the southern Marin County area.

"From now on we will be a little more stringent about collecting money," Mrs. Parker said.

"To keep going, we must have prompt payments to meet our bills."

In 1964

At her peak, she earned $10,000 a week and was one of Hollywood's highest-paid stars.

Born Marie Adrienne Koenig May 10, 1889, in Portsmouth, Va., she danced in New York shows as a teenager. Florenz Ziegfeld featured her in his Follies.

Democrats Working To Get Johnson On All 50 Ballots

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats are maneuvering to get President Johnson's name on the ballot in all 50 states and to bar any white-only delegations from their 1968 convention.

The objective, as National Chairman John M. Bailey explained it to a news conference yesterday, is to come up with a firm set of qualifications that must be met by every state party organization in picking electors.

"We want to give them all plenty of advance notice of what the rules are so that they will be prepared to comply with them," Bailey said.

Former Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania, who headed the convention platform committee, announced he was appointing a task force of experts to study the effect of state statutes and party rules in all of the states on the matter of loyalty and discrimination.

Bailey said that in cases where state laws perit either discrimination among voters or allow the choice of unpledged electors, the local party organization will be asked to petition the legislature to change them.

Court Problems Due State Study

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Court problems posed by recent arrests of hundreds of demonstrators in San Francisco and Berkeley are in store for a legislative study after this session is over.

Final Ranger Shot Is Star On Nation's Television Sets

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Ranger 9 televised live today a dramatic sequence of more than 200 close-ups of the moon as it dove to its death in a lunar crater.

The beautifully illuminated series began by showing three craters in sharp detail from 1,300 miles up, and finished by displaying tiny pock marks on the floor of the crater Alphonsus from but a few miles away.

The live television, relayed to home viewers by commercial TV networks, was a first for the series, which now has three straight success in returning close shots of the little known lunar surface.

The pictures were flashed on the screen for five seconds each for more than 15 minutes preceding Ranger's 6:08 a.m. impact, just four miles from its target in the 60-mile-wide Alphonsus.

Perhaps the most interesting feature was a large crack, or rill, across Alphonsus' floor.

One of the goals in aiming at a crater — the two previous successful Rangers photographed broad plains — was to try to learn if there is volcanic activity on the moon.

Astronomers have observed red flashes in the vicinity of Alphonsus, which could have been hot gas escaping through cracks in the crust.

Next step is the Surveyor series, to make soft landings on the moon and analyze its surface. The first shot is expected late this year.

STILL MISSING—Honey Oliver Walsworth, 17-year-old daughter of Mrs. Violet Mae Walsworth of 230 Perry Street, Tamalpais Valley, has been missing since March 2. Sheriff's officers said the girl apparently packed two suitcases before departing.

BEARDS

nothing immoral about beards."

"As long as they are neat and clean, that's fine," Kreps said. "I'm sure there are students wearing beards right now."

Two Redwood teachers returned from summer vacation sporting beards, Kreps recalled, but one soon got rid of the itchy adornment. The second "was determined not to shave it off until after the election in November; it was a matter of principle with him," the principal said.

Drake High School likewise has a policy of laisse-faire about facial hair, so long as it is neat. At the moment, teachers are beardless by choice, but some students are bewhiskered. The situation is the same at Tamalpais High.

Several San Rafael High School students are sporting hirsute facial adornments, as well as several faculty members. Finest beard on the campus is that of Lew Levison, drama teacher, with John C. Curtin, humanities and philosophy teacher, as closest contender. Fahhad Moezzi, who teaches the art of the potter's wheel, sports an elegant mustache.

Novato High's no-beard rule is spelled out in the school's handbook of student conduct. The district itself has no beard policy, according to Asst. Supt. Paul C. Mobley.

"We expect the students' dress not to detract from the educational process," but the clean-shaven rule is up to the high school authorities," he explained. "Of course, the district board has seen the handbook."

Last week, two Novato High students who began beards for the Western Weekend were requested to shave, in compliance with the rule.

Principal Robert Wisgerhof said the no-beard rule is basically the doing of the students themselves. A student committee prepared the handbook, which was then reviewed by the administration and district trustee, he said.

The faculty? It's clean-shaven, except for a trace of five-o'clock shadow now and then.

Western Weekend or no, it's no whiskers at Novato High—not by the hairs on your chinny-chin-chin.

Frouge Told To See County On Sewers

Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District directors last night told a Frouge Corp. representative the board does not feel the district should make capital expenditures to provide sewer service for the proposed city of Marincello when there is a proposal for a southern Marin joint sanitary facility which might handle the sewage.

Cyril G. Hansen, president pro tem, said the board advised Richard King, consulting engineer to Frouge Corp., to go to Marin County officials with its request to tie into the Sausalito-Marin City District via Tamalpais Valley.

Two Intoxicated Drivers Fined

M/Sgt. Stanley Russell Williams, 46, Hamilton Air Force Base, was fined $166 yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. He was arrested by Novato police last Saturday on South Novato Boulevard.

More Marchers Join; Goal Comes In Sight

EN ROUTE FROM SELMA TO MONTGOMERY, ALA. (UPI)—Hundreds of additional civil rights demonstrators fell into ranks today as the Selma-to-Montgomery marchers hove into view of the city limits.

With a fife player shrilling out "Yankee Doodle Dandy," and three flag-bearers parading near the head of the ever-growing line, the procession came striding down U.S. 80 on the final road phase of the massive march.

Three - hundred started out this morning, but as quickly as the road widened from two to four lanes, scores of other demonstrators began joining the march. By mid-day, there were more than 800.

The federal judge who gave the approval for the demonstration, U.S. District Judge Frank M. Johnson, specified that only 300 persons could march at a time along the two-lane portions of route U.S. 80. No limit was set on the number who could march along the four-lane section, which the marchers are now on.

The tempo of excitement quickened as the marchers neared the city.

The marchers, some with their blistered feet wrapped in plastic to cushion their limping steps, planned to cover 16 miles today, a hike that will bring them to the outskirts of the capital.

The marchers were up at dawn and by 8 a.m. EST were on the way down the road they have come to call "the higway of hope."

The marchers, some with their blistered feet wrapped in plastic to cushion their limping steps, planned to cover 16 miles today, a hike that will bring them to the outskirts of the capital.

The march will be climaxed tomorrow when an estimated 10,000 persons gather in front of the Alabama Capitol, a delegation will seek an audience with Gov. George C. Wallace to discuss alleged discrimination against Negro voter applicants. Wallace has said he will have "nothing to do" with such a delegation.

Cycle Rider's Parents Sue Over Fatality

The parents of an 18-year-old College of Marin student killed in a motorcycle accident on Highway 101 last Oct. 1 today filed a wrongful death suit asking $251,852.75.

The plaintiffs, John M. and Aurelie Sarlatte, 17 Eton Way, Mill Valley, allege in the Marin Superior Court suit that their son, Paul Lucien Sarlatte, was killed as a result of negligence by Edward Gierman, 30, a carpenter who had been living with the Sarlattes, and who was driving the motorcycle, and Wilber R. Manson, 48, truck driver for Basalt Rock Co. of Napa.

The rock company also is a defendant.

California Highway patrolmen said Gierman, with Sarlatte as passenger, had just topped the hill north of the Greenbrae interchange when his motorcycle swerved and flipped over, throwing both Gierman and Sarlatte to the roadway.

They said Manson, driving a truck behind the cycle, applied his brakes but struck Sarlatte.

The Sarlattes ask $250,000 damages and $1,852.75 for funeral and burial expenses.

PUC Orders Phone Probe For Novato

The California Public Utilities Commission today ordered an investigation into "extended service" between San Rafael exchange of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. and the Novato exchange of Western California Telephone Co.

The PUC said Western protested "extended service" (toll-free calling at higher basic rates) between San Rafael and Ignacio exchanges of Pacific Telephone. Both companies serve Novato.

Commission President Frederick B. Holoboff said a decision on extended service to the Ignacio exchange of Pacific in Novato was deferred to prevent possible aggravation of the two companies problem, and to enable the whole matter to be studied at the same time.

McInnis Makes Pitch For Highway Projects

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—Mayor John F. McInnis of San Rafael appeared before the California Highway Commission in Sacramento today to make a pitch for earlier completion of highway on and off-ramp projects in downtown San Rafael.

McInnis urged that widening of the highway to six lanes from Terra Linda to Marinwood, scheduled for 1966-67, be postponed and that money diverted to speed up work in San Rafael.

He asked for a switch in priority so that money can be diverted to purchasing rights of way for ramps at Puerto Suello Hill, Mission Avenue and Irwin Street, and North San Pedro Road.

McInnis also asked that the project be stepped up so that the ramps can be constructed during the 1967 fiscal year.

The highway commission took the requests under submission. Chairman Robert B. Bradford said he expects to hear from highway staff members on the matter.

The U.S. jets hit anti-aircraft positions.

The Viet Cong statement said the Communists were innocent of any wrongdoing in South Viet Nam and blamed the fighting on "American aggression." It said the Americans were losing but it said if U.S. raids continue the Viet Cong will bring in foreign troops and arms.

The Communists were vague as to identifying the foreign troops but the statement was broadcast one day after the Soviets reported many "volunteers" had expressed eagerness to serve in Viet Nam. TheChinese in the past have hinted that some volunteers might aid the Viet Cong.

In Washington Secretary of State Dean Rusk denied indignantly today that the United States is engaging in "gas warfare" in South Viet Nam. But he made clear that tear-gas and riot-control agents would continue to be used where desirable to avoid civilian casualties.

Saucelito Canal Rerouting Stalled For Planning Commission Hearing

Richardson Bay and the conflict between developers and conservationists again came up for lengthy discussion by the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday.

At issue was a proposal by Bothin Real Estate Co. to change the alignment of Saucelito Canal just east of Richardson Bay Bridge.

Supervisors finally voted 4-0 to refer the matter to the county planning commission for study and a public hearing. Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, absent when the vote was taken late in the day, said earlier that he favored referral to the planning commission.

As explained by E. Elmore Hutchison, engineer for Bothin, the shift to the northeast, away from the bulkhead line, would substantially reduce land acquisition costs because it would place the canal within the alignment of Railroad Avenue, a public right of way.

Hutchison said an assessment district is ready to go, putting up $300,000 of the dredging cost. It is expected the balance of the dredging will be covered by about $200,000 available through the Army Corps of Engineers.

He said, however, that haste is important because it is not certain how long the $200,000 will be available. Attorney Clark W. Maser, representing Bothin, made the same point.

Mary Summers of the Marin Conservation League questioned the proposal, saying it might put pressure on the board to change the established bulkhead line since more dredging would be needed between the bulkhead line and the realigned canal to provide boating access.

Hutchison said the canal is needed to provide access to the Mill Valley small craft harbor.

Engineer Jesper C. Stranogarro said he was authorized to relay Mill Valley endorsement of the proposal.

Thomas Nowell of Nowell Associates, owner of several parcelts of land in the area, said he objected to being assessed for a development which would not benefit his property.

Robert Bennighof, architect for Nowell, presented a plan for the shoreline showing development of Petaluma Avenue as a landscaped parkway with access to boating facilities, but supervisors said it should not be part of the proposed canal realignment debate.

Planning Director B. D. Dobbs said the commission would hold its hearing on the realignment April 19 and report to the board of supervisors on April 20.

'Rhubarb Revue' Has Cast Of 40

"Hall razing has failed to halt fund raising" for a new Tamalpais Valley Improvement Club, said Robert Glessner today, announcing that 40 people will comprise the cast of the "Rhubarb Revue" now in rehearsal.

The show, "Fantasy," will be presented April 23, 24, 30 and May 7 and 8 at American Legion Hall, Mill Valley. It was moved to Mill Valley since last year the old clubhouse was razed to make way for the Coyote Creek flood control project.

Director is Laurie Tusup; choreographers are Bonnie Truman and Shirley Taldo, and Jay Irving and Nick Pendleton are set producers. Glessner is comanager with Karl Zipf, and Mrs. Flo Glessner is in charge of tickets.

Death Row Inmate Fights For New Sentence Trial

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—San Quentin death row inmate Nathaniel Gaines, 27, sentenced to die April 13 for the 1961 slaying of a Los Angeles storekeeper, has asked the Supreme Court for a stay of execution and a writ of habeas corpus.

His attorney argued that Gaines, a Los Angeles truck driver, should be given a new penalty trial because the jury was advised that he could be paroled if given a life sentence.

The Supreme Court had ruled in the case of Bernard Morse and in similar cases since that the prosecution may not advise jurors of parole possibilities. This is prejudicial and makes it necessary to hold new penalty trials, the earlier court ruling said.

If he is executed April 13, Gaines will be the first prisoner to die in California's gas chamber since January of 1962.

CONCERT REVIEW

Jazz In Spotlight And Beat Is Fine

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

It was jazz at its most creative last night when Angelico Hall at Dominican College echoed to the beat of the Bossa Nova and other rhythms of the Paul Winter Sextet.

Composed of collegians thoroughly grounded in sound musicianship, each having a free ranging an highly distinctive solo style, the sextet makes marvelous music.

A surprising thing happened. Except for tumultuous acclaim at the end of the concert, the ear-splitting decibels came in the climaxes on stage rather than from the young people who nearly filled the place. Their demeanor for the most part was one of rapt attention.

Saxaphonist Winter is leader of the sextet, which also includes flute, piano, drums, bass and guitar; but the backbone of the group, in the sense that they were almost continuously "on," were pianist Pat Rebillot and drummer Frederick Waits.

Rebillot may well become one of the big-name jazz pianists, and Waits is the most sensational drummer we have ever heard. Featured in Schifrin's tocatta from "Suite Gillespiana," he could make those drums talk, sing and laugh. This was hot jazz indeed.

Though many of their best numbers were Latin-American in character, the sextet's repertoire includede overtones from New Orleans jazz, as in "The Re-Enlistment Blues," Count Basie, and even Chopin and Schumann in the hauntingly beautiful "Requiem for a Lover" by Edu Lobo.

A plaintive and blue "Shenandoah" was one of their most interesting arrangements.

Each of the instruments had its moments in the spotlight in addition to the drums.

Soldier Graduated

Army Sp/4 William G. Canlett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin H. Canlett, 336 Ferndale Avenue, Mill Valley, has been graduated from the Fourth Armored Division Noncommissioned Officer Academy in Germany. He is an operations assistant in Headquarters Troop, Second Squadron of the division's Fourth Cavalry.

Piano Duo To Present Concert

Milton and Peggy Salkind, internationally known piano duo, will present the fourth program in the Belvedere-Tiburon Peninsula Cultural Series Sunday at 3 p.m. in the Del Mar school auditorium, Tiburon Boulevard at Miraflores.

The Salkinds, who live in Mill Valley, returned March 11 from their second concert tour of Europe. Their itinerary included Iceland, Sweden, Denmark, Poland, Germany and the Netherlands.

The Salkinds' first recording was released during February by the Friends of Four Hand Music, 1645 Edith Street, Berkeley.

Specializing in music originally written for four hands—one piano, they have helped to bring this kind of music to the concert stage.

Ticket information may be obtained from Mrs. Sam Mercer, 45 Spring Lane, Tiburon.

Service Station Plans Approved

The Corte Madera Board of Design Monday approved plans for a Richfield service station on Paradise Drive next to the Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks.

The board also approved plans by Joseph Minutoli, 326 Kent Avenue, to add two living units to a house at 15 Willow Avenue.

Council Agrees On Tiburon 'Park-Like' Shoreline Road

The Tiburon City Council agreed with its planning commission last night that a future shoreline Tiburon Boulevard should be a "park-like" road—but steered away from committing city money to the project.

Councilmen agreed that design changes, which would give the road this appearance, needed fast work.

Councilmen Leo Souza and John S. Hoffmire Jr., with a planning commission committee will attempt to get the State Division of Highways to include Tiburon ideas in the road design. These would include parking and stopping areas.

Councilmen indicated they might be willing to put up $2,500 to $3,000 of city money for having an alternate design drawn by a private engineer, if the state will not do it.

The Tiburon City Council also:

1. Adopted ordinances granting gas and electric franchises to Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

2. Approved plans for a nine-lot subdivision off Tiburon Baulevard and south of Rock Hill Road.

'Hot' Wires Exposed

END OF RIDE — The "Molly Brown," Gemini 3 spacecraft which carried United States' first two-man astronaut team aloft, is put aboard the carrier Intrepid after safely landing in the Atlantic Ocean near the Bahamas yesterday. Its two crewmen, pilot Virgil I. Grissom and co-pilot John W. Young, are being "debriefed" today by space program scientists.

HERO'S WELCOME DUE

Space Twins Head Home

ABOARD THE AIRCRAFT CARRIER INTREPID (UPI)—Astronauts Virgil I. Grissom and John W. Young, the pioneering Gemini pilots who put new life into America's man-in-space program, headed home today to a welcome from a proud nation.

With them on this 40,000-ton fighting ship was the scorched Gemini-3 capsule that carried them on a near-perfect three-orbit ride through space yesterday and cleared the way for a four-day Gemini flight in about three months.

The two space pilots, one of whom had a brief bout with seasickness in their bobbing "Molly Brown" spaceship after landing in the Atlantic north of the Bahamas, were declared in fine physical condition.

The astronauts examined the spaceship last night on the hanger deck of the vessel. As scores of sailors ganged around, Grissom and Young studied intensely the seared heat shield that protected them from the 1,700-degree reentry heat.

The capsule, the American flag painted on its side partially blisted from the fiery return from space, appeared in good condition.

Later last night the pilots received telephone calls from their wives.

Ahead of them lay the acclaim of the nation—in a news conference at Cape Kennedy, Fla., ltomorrow and a persona meeting with President Lyndon B. Johnson at the White House Friday.

And behind them now was a near-perfect space voyage that put the United States back in business in the manned space race after a 22-month lapse by demonstrating the value of the two-man Gemini spaceship.

"Ready To Proceed"

"We are ready to proceed with the Gemini program," was the way Charles Mathews, Gemini program manager, summed up the result of the Grissom-Young flight, the first by a two-man U.S. spacecraft.

Next step is a four-day voyage in late June or early July and, after that, a seven-day trip later this year in which U.S. astronauts will partially match last week's Soviet efforts by opening the hatch of their craft and taking a peek around space.

All in all, nine more Gemini shots lie ahead — all of them preparation for an eventual U.S. landing on the moon, and all of them possible now that Grissom and Young have proved that the Gemini capsule works.

"We now have a machine that will take men into space for as long as two weeks as long as they're willing to go," said Robert R. Gilruth, chief of the U.S. Manned Spacecraft Center near Houston, Tex.

Although it came only three days after a Russian shot in which one cosmonaut caused a world sensation by stepping outside his capsule and doing somerailts in space, the Gemini shot chalked up many "firsts" for the United States.

Most importantly, U.S. officials claimed it was the first spaceship to be steered in flight by either U.S. or Russian pilots. Three times during the ride Grissom and Young changed the orbit of their craft by firing engines—over Texas during their first orbit, over the Indian Ocean on the second orbit and over Hawaii on the last lap.

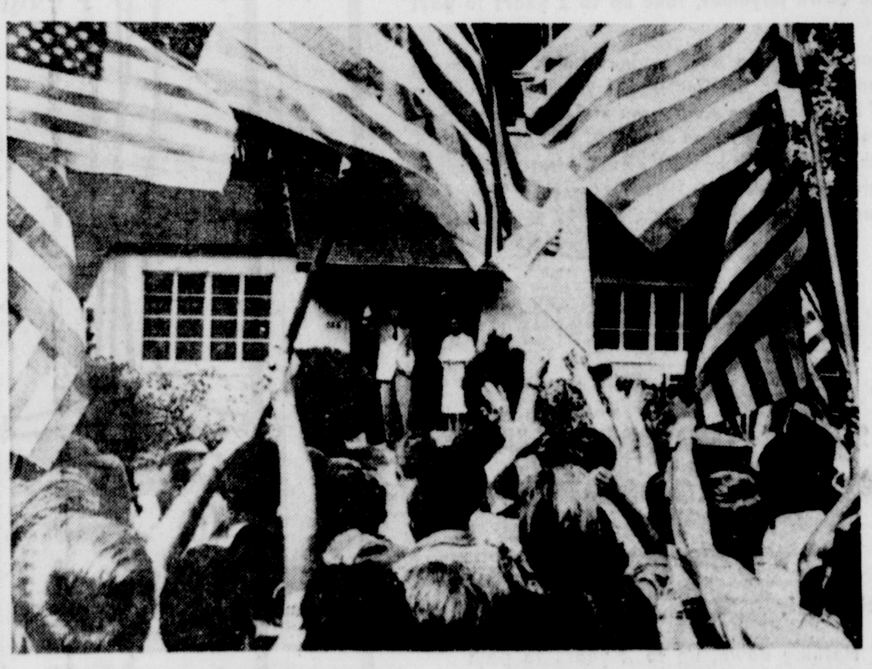

"The Russians have not claimed orbital changes for their spacecraft, and as far as we know, they have not gotten these changes," said Christopher C. Kraft Jr., Gemini mission director.

VARIED TRANSPORTATION— Young (left) and Grissom take to their third mode of transportation in one fantastic day yesterday, as they alight from helicopter onto deck of aircraft carrier Intrepid. Earlier, the two had hurtled three times around the world in America's first two-man spacecraft.

WELCOME ABOARD — Grissom (foreground) and Young greet Captain J. G. Smith of Carrier Intrepid, the key ship in the Gemini flight's primary landing area.

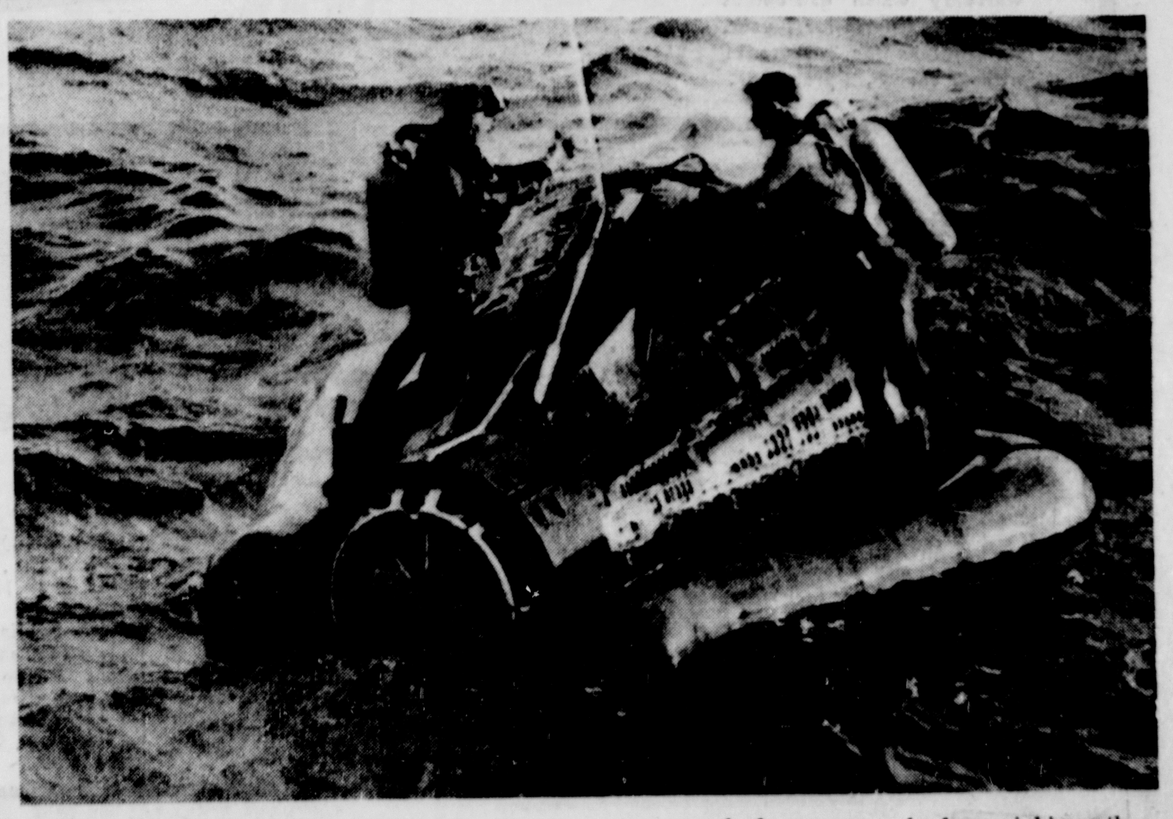

CELEBRATION BACK HOME—At Orlando, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Young, parents of Gemini co-pilot Young, accept greetings from school children who were given a holiday yesterday after historic space mission was safely completed.

TALK TO WHITE HOUSE—"It was a wonderful ride . . . it didn't last long enough," Astronaut Young tells President Lyndon B. Johnson via telephone from the aircraft carrier after landing, while Grissom listens.

THE YOUNG SET'S VIEWS — As her mother, Mrs. Barbara Young, and brother, John Jr., 6, listen, Sandra Young, 7, answers questions from the press in the home of the Molly Brown's co-pilot Young, in a suburb of Houston, Tex. (AP Wirephotos and UPI Telephotos from NASA)

FIRST GREETERS — After the Molly Brown splashed safely into the Atlantic, Navy frogmen quickly attached a flotation collar to prevent the heat-scorched space capsule from sinking, then prepared to open hatch so astronauts could emerge, to be picked up by helicopter and taken aboard ship.

Novato Criticizes County Plan Delay

Novato Mayor Robert D. Carrow, in a sharp letter to the Marin County Board of Supervisors, evidently touched a tender spot on the county planning staff.

County Planning Director B. D. Dobbs said the letter was "ill timed" and rather hard for him to answer directly if it were the supervisors intention "to keep everything light and rosy" between the county and the cities.

Carrow, complaining over delay in preparation of a Novato master plan by the county staff, declared:

"From this experience, it appears that the city will, in the future, seriously consider private planning consultants for this type of work."

The Novato master plan, originally due last Dec. 26, was postponed until April 26. Dobbs said this was done with the city's consent. Since Feb. 17, the city has received weekly progress reports on the plan, he said. It will be finished by the deadline, he said.

"It appears that we have missed the opportunity to prove to Novato and other cities that we have the capacity to do such a survey," said Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors also:

1. Awarded a $13,890 contract for traffic signals at College Avenue, Bon Air Road, La Cuesta Drive and Elesio Drive on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and a $22,986 contract for a four-way traffic signal at Freitas Parkway and Las Gallinas Avenue to L. H. Leonardi of San Rafael, lowest of four bidders on both jobs.

2. Set public hearing April 13 on amendment to the subdivision ordinance which would require underground utilities in new subdivisions.

3. Authorized County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney to defend the county in a suit brought by Zinsco Electrical Products of San Francisco seeking to stop construction of juvenile hall addition until bid specifications are broadened so the firm can bid. The action was filed in San Francisco Superior Court.

4. Approved exclusion of 10 acres owned by the city of Mill Valley from the Almonte Sanitary District.

5. Approved annexation of the Fagundes Ranch to Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District.

6. Hired Jerry Martinson at $562 a month as a group counsellor for juvenile hall, Stanley R. Voets at $463 as senior engineering aide in the public works department, and Marjorie M. Ward at $536 a month to the new position of employment counsellor in the social services department.

7. Called for bids at 2 p.m. April 12 in the library conference room at the Civic Center on construction of drainage facilities on Merrydale Road in Los Ranchitos.

8. Agreed to authorize a year's contract with the Marin Foundation Group Home for placement of girls by the county probation and social service departments for foster home care. The county has been using the facility on a trial basis for six months.

9. Delayed appointment of a replacement for L. C. Brooks on the county personnel commission. His term expired Feb. 22. Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker asked the delay. Brooks, a resident of San Rafael, represented the First Supervisorial District.

10. Scheduled a hearing at 9:35 a.m. April 6 on annexation of a lot owned by Donald J. Kinsella to the San Rafael Sanitation district.

11. Asked Agricultural Commissioner Richard Straw to discuss preparation of inexpensive pamphlets on poison oak for distribution to schools with the county schools office and erection of informative signs about the plant along roadsides with the county's water districts. Straw will report to the board on the matter in two weeks.

12. Directed Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell to report on the number of county employees interested in participating in a voluntary payroll savings plan.

13. Endorsed proposed amendments to the government code specifying the number and amount of compensation of officers and attaches of municipal court.

14. Filed without discussion a letter from Mrs. Betty Hirsch of 910 Idylberry Road, Lucas Valley, protesting Chairman Peter H. Behr's remarks two weeks ago concerning law enforcement officers.

County Temporarily Restricts Dog Kennels

The Marin County Board of Supervisors in an emergency ordinance on establishment of dog kennels in agricultural zones.

The board received a petition with 52 signatures presented by the West Novato Assn., urging that Kennels not allowed in the agricultural zone without a use permit and that an emergency ordinance be adopted to that effect.

Lloyd Brooke of 55 Wild Valley Road, a member of the group and a real estate man, said there had been three inquiries on properties in the area recently by buyers interested in establishing kennels.

The ordinance will require use permits for kennels regardless of the zoning. Use permits were already required except in agricultural zones.

The emergency ordinance will be in force six months. In the meanwhile, studies will be conducted by the planning staff and hearings will be held on a permanent ordinance.

John Stanley, born in London in 1713, and blinded at 2, learned to play the organ at 7 and was a church organist at 11. He was known as an interpreter of the works of Handel.

DIXIE 'SLEEP-IN' ENDS

Some of 117 civil rights marchers from Washington, D.C., sleep amid American flags in train station at Atlanta, Ga., today after their chartered train's crew members failed to show up for final leg of trip to Montgomery, Ala. When the group's leader, Rev. R. G. Williams, refused to accept offer of bus transportation, Southern Railroad officials solved the problem by hitching the marchers' special onto a regular passenger train. (UPI Telephoto)

Mayors Asked To LBJ Dinner

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some 111 mayors are the latest to receive an invitation to the White House for a dinner with President Johnson and briefings by Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

The White House gave no date for the dinner, but Mayor Frank Graves of Paterson, N.J. said the invitation was for March 30.

Mayors of cities with more than 100,000 population are being invited. At least one mayor is being invited from each state, even if it has no city of 100,000.

New Law Sought On Plane Hoaxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department wants to make it possible for the government to file civil action, as well as criminal prosecution, against pranksters who falsely report the presence of bombs on airplanes or other carriers.

The law would supplement the existing criminal statue that provides prison terms for willfully and maliciously committing bomb hoaxes.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach said yesterday in asking the new legislation that it was needed because of the difficulty of obtaining convictions under the present law.

On Aircraft Carrier

Navy Electrician's Mate Fireman Apprentice David S. Lee Jr. of 2450 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, and Airman Alan C. DeLone, son of Mrs. Judy DeLone of 1051 Las Pavadas Avenue, Terra Linda, are serving aboard the aircraft carrier Kitty Hawk, now conducting sea trials off the Pacific coast.

which 80 to 90 units would be allowed.

Mayor William Franchini agreed that planned development would be better piecemeal subdivision, but said he wanted more information about drainage and access.

Clyde said he and land owner Paul Mendelson, partners in the proposed project, are willing to put up $10,000 to help in a drainage project.

The only solution to the drainage problem is an assessment district, Clyde said. He said even if a drainage line were run to Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, "the city drain in Sir Francis Drake is inadequate."

City Administrator Douglas E. Flautt admitted the drainage system in the area is poor and needs to be replaced whether or not there is development. He said he has been conferring with Fairfax on the problem "and we'll probably end up with an assessment district."

Councilman Woodrow V. Capurro asked, "How can we allow a development without plans for drainage?"

City Atty. John G. Buresh said problems of drainage and access would be considered when the applicant filed a subdivision map. But Mayor Franchini said he wants "to know the cost to get the people in and out and to get the water in and out."

Thomas Stoddard, president of the San Anselmo Homes Assn., said there should be a change in the city's slope policy before "any new development of this magnitude." He said the slope policy should be applied before cutting and filling takes place.

Residents also contended that the access roads—Valley Road and Camino de Herrerra—barely handle the present traffic.

Leitzell said that the plan had been changed since the planning commission approved rezoning last summer. The new plan contained some lots smaller than the 5,000-square foot lots originally approved and indicates common walls for some adjoining houses, Leitzell said.

WHERE IS HORACE WINK ?

Council Vetoes $668 In Office Equipment

San Anselmo city councilmen balked last night at approving $668 in office equipment for the city's new recreation director, including a $221 electric typewriter.

Councilman Woodrow V. Capurro suggested that Recreation Director Andrew Snyder, move his office to city hall and use one of the typwriters there.

City Administrator Douglas E. Flautt said all typewriters at city hall are being used.

"Before long, he'll want a secretary," Capurro said.

"He's got a girl working part-time," Flautt said.

"What does she type on now?" asked Capurro.

"He has a typewriter, but it's old and second-hand," Flautt replied.

Mayor William Franchini commented, "We've bought more typewriters! I've been in business 30 years and I've only had two typewriters."

Other items on the list were a typewriter stand, $22; a typist chair, $25, and an electric mimeograph machine $373.

The council held the request for further study.

Underground Utilities May Be Required In San Anselmo

San Anselmo City Council last night moved toward requiring underground utilities in new subdivisions.

The council authorized City Atty. John G. Buresh to draw up an ordinance requiring the underground systems.

"I think the time has come that we should do something about this," said Mayor William Franchini.

The mayor also suggested the city consider a requirement that underground utilities be installed when old equipment is replaced.

Mhs. W. E. Olson of Fairfax asked the council whether it would seek underground utilities in the Laster Co. subdivision above Butterfield Road and near the Fairfax city line.

Public Works Director Richard A. Sypher said it was "just a little late" for such a request because the poles are installed.

The San Anselmo City Council Also:

1. Ordered J and K Construction Co. of San Rafael to remove a slide on Miwok Avenue in the Indian Rock subdivision, clean up other streets in the area and proceed with the project.

2. Called for bids on conversion of four overhead traffic signals to corner standards on Drake Boulevard at San Francisco Boulevard, Broadmoor Avenue, Butterfield Road and Suffield Avenue.

3. Approved a mercury vapor street light at Saunders Bridge, north of Agatha Court, but denied a request for improved street lighting in the Hilldale Drive-Hilldale Park area.

4. Appointed Richard Bartee, 27 Warner Court, San Rafael, as maintenance man, and Vernice Schonauer of 257 Los Angeles Boulevard, San Anselmo, as equipment operator in the public works department.

5. Postponed action for two weeks on proposed landscaping adjacent to the Tunstead Avenue bridge after City Administrator Douglas E. Flautt presented a project estimates to cost $4,000.

6. Prohibited parking in the turn-around area on Del Norte Avenue on recommendation of Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani, who reported parked vehicles were preventing residents from entering their driveways.

7. Declared May "Senior Citizens Month" and referred the nomination of a senior citizen to be honored to the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce.

8. Received notice from the planning commission that the chamber of commerce's proposal for planned development of a town center does not meet provisions of the zoning ordinance.

12 Pacifists Jailed In Protest

OAKLAND (AP) — A dozen pacifists were in jail today after attempting to protest the loading of supplies aboard a ship bound for South Viet Nam.

They were among 100 demonstrators who stormed eight-foot high barbed were fences at Oakland Army Terminal for four hours yesterday in an attempt to picket the ship Korea Bear.

Oakland police arrested eight, including a housewife and two teen-age girls. Military police arrested four who managed to scale the fence and dash to the pier.

PERMIT GRANTED

Plan For School Found Charming

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

Is a charm studio a school?

Is it commercial? Or perhaps multiple residential?

Five august San Rafael planning commissioners groped last night for the answers, then voted to grant a use permit for the Studio of Charm in an office building at 1363 Lincoln Avenue, which is in an R-4 apartment zone.

Then it turned out the applicants, Mrs. Carolyn Beach and Mrs. Anne Shea, may not be able to locate their school there anyhow — for the space may have been rented "out from under them" by the Heart Assn.

The Studio of Charm, explained Mrs. Beach, will be operated by the John Robert Powers staff, for the John Robert Powers School of Self Improvement for Women is shortly to fold its operation at 1000 Fifth Avenue.

"We want to get out of the commercial district into more of a residential atmosphere," said blonde Mrs. Beach.

Trouble was, the commissioners, try as they might, couldn't find anything in the zoning ordinance to permit charm studios in an apartment zone.

Schools are permitted anywhere, suggested City Planner George H. Rodgers hopefully. But then he posed the question, would the Studio of Charm be considered a school? "The county counsel thinks it is," he offered.

Commissioner Pat Hetherton noted, without much hope, that social halls are permitted in an R-4 zone.

Commissioner John A. Miskimen suggested the Studio of Charm might be a clinic. The ordinance, he noted, allows use permits for "clinics for the treatment of human ailments."

"Did you say human frailments?" asked Commissioner Charles J. Hendrickson.

"Are we commercial?" asked Mrs. Beach, charmingly.

"I don't think you're R-4," replied Commissioner V. Judson Klein.

Miskimen wasn't so sure. "There are R-4 zones and there are other R-4 zones," he mused.

Klein and Hendrickson decided to solve the whole thing by agreeing the Studio of Charm is a school. Hetherton then moved that a use permit be granted "for a charm school." This passed unanimously.

Now all the charming ladies have to worry about is the lease. For awhile, anyhow.

Tiburon Approves Tighter Small Subdivision Controls

An ordinance putting tighter controls on small subdivisions was passed last night by the Tiburon City Council over objections of two businessmen.

The ordinance only closes loop holes in one already on the books giving the city control over subdivision of land into two or three parcels (subdivision into a greater number of lots is covered by state law). The one passed last night explicitly der the city's slope policy. der thec ity's slope policy.

Councilmen approved the ordinance for a six-month period during which studies will continue on all city subdivision and zoning ordinances.

The vote was 4-1 with councilman Fred C. Hannahs opposing. It was passed as an "urgency" measure, becoming effective immediately. Leslie C. Gross, city director of lands and improvements, said three requests for such subdivisions were pending.

The ordinance was "sprung on us by surprise," protested Robert Moor, whose Tiburon Tidelands Co. has under its control 18 acres of waterfront and underwater land where it plans construction of a hotel, town houses, marina, restaurant and offices.

"What's the urgency?" asked Charles Tijerina, president of the Tiburon National Bank.

The urgency is that the city has been "deluged" with proposals for small subdivisions which would bypass the slope policy, answered Gnoss.

The method is "underhanded," countered Moor. He implied he believed the quick action was aimed particularly at Tiburon Tidelands.

"We are carrying out the mandate of you citizens in tightening up land controls," said Mayor Gordon W. Strawbridge.

Reed Teachers Might Get Salary Hikes

If trustees can find the money without a tax rise, teachers in Reed School District will get a pay hike.

Trustees at their meeting last night at Del Mar School agreed that if the district receives additional tax monies as a result of reappraisals now being done on the Tiburon Peninsula, the funds will go toward teacher salaries.

A series of proposals for salary hikes put forth by teachers was turned over to the administrative staff, for recommendations at the trustees' April 27 meeting.

Trustees agreed to give "serious consideration" to teacher proposals that team leaders in the team teaching program be given additional pay; that the "open end" plan allowing teachers raises beyond the highest point on the pay scale be put into effect; that a $100 annual bonus for advanced degrees be added.

The Reed School District Board also:

1. Voted 4-1 to support a bill by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, which would modify the requirement that unification of school districts generally follow high school boundaries. Mrs. Marilyn C. Steinau dissented.
2. Put off to April 13 a report on school attendance areas for next school year.
3. Agreed to meet briefly April 8 at a time still unset, to open bids for construction of the addition to Granada School.

Adding Machine Stolen From College

A 10-key adding machine was stolen from the College of Marin's apprenticeship program building at 21 Mariposa Street, San Anselmo, Asst. Dean Irvin Colt told San Anselmo police yesterday.

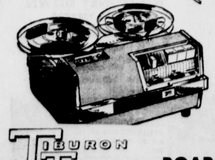

He said another machine vanished March 8, but that loss was not reported to police.

NORTHGATE INDUSTRIAL PARK GAINS

Annexation Recommended By Planners

The San Rafael Planning Commission last night recommended annexation of 90-acre Smith Ranch-Draper Companies proposed Northgate Industrial Park Unit 2, and approved the tentative map for its development.

The commission also granted architectural approval for three office buildings and two warehouses in Northgate Industrial Park Unit 1, but held up action on a third warehouse.

Engineer Carlos R. Gonzales presented the tentative map for the annexation area, which includes a parcel of surplus state land along with those of Draper and the Smith Brothers. The state land is not part of the subdivision map, but Gonzales said it might eventually be used for draining.

PARTIALLY FILLED

The Smith lands, partially filled, will require two drainage ponds with pumps Gonzales said all drainage will be into Gallinas Creek.

Commissioner John A. Miskimen voted against accepting the tentative map before the city completes annexation of the land.

The commission was unanimous in granting architectural approval for three office buildings, totaling 29,928 square feet, for Margarita Development Co. in the first unit of Northgate Industrial Park.

It was unanimous also in granting similar approval for a 6,000-square foot warehouse planned by Dr. O. Rosalia and a 4,025-foot warehouse planned by Mel Berman in the same area.

ACTION POSTPONED

But it was also unanimous in postponing until April 13 action on architectural approval for a 5,400-square foot office and warehouse building planned by Rich Electric, Inc.

Objection was not to the design of the building, but to the fact the cantilevered second story would hang 12 feet out over the 25-foot setback area.

The setback is not a city requirement but is provided by Northgate Industrial Park deed restrictions. Gordon Dohemann, who said he spoke for the Draper Companies, said they were willing to waive the restriction, but the commission was not satisfied with that assurance.

Operetta Planned At School

Pupils of the eighth grade at Marin County Day School will present Gilbert and Sullivan's "Ruddigore" at the school in Corte Madera April 7, 8, and 9.

Directing the operetta is R. Barret Mineah, head of the school's music department. It is hoped the new auditorium-gymnasium, with 800 capacity, will be completed in time to stage it there.

Costumes are being made by mothers of the cast and sets are being designed and constructed by the school's art and maintenance departments.

The first performance will actually be a dress rehearsal before the rest of the children.

Principals are Albert Hass, Karen Salkind, Simki Mattern, Samuel Livermore, John Hamann, Jeffrey Griffeath, Dana Johnson, Julia Reid, Anthony Heller.

Marinwood Chief Post Stays Open

The Marinwood Fire Commission in a special meeting last night decided not to replace Fire Chief Joseph D. Medley at once.

Medley has resigned as of April 1 because of "low pay." He was getting $580 a month.

Commission chairman Henry Biggers said the commission decided to hire a junior grade fireman at $425 a month to fill out the fire fighting force and have senior Capt. James Cameron take charge of the department on a temporary basis.

The Marinwood Community Service District board will have the final say on the hiring.

Completes Course

Army Pvt. David J. Della Santina, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ugo Della Santina, 21 Oak Knoll Drive, San Anselmo, has completed an eight-week food service course under the Reserve Enlistment Program at Fort Ord.

Ranchers Ask Tough Anti-Trespass Ruling

A stronger ordinance to control motor vehicles trespassing on private property will be asked of the board of supervisors by Marin County ranchers and fire departments.

Yesterday afternoon a delegation of ranchers met with County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom and Novato Fire Chief George Cavallero at the Pini Feed Mill in Novato.

"The ranchers objected to motorcycles and motor scooters tearing around their property, chasing cattle and being a fire hazard," Cavallero reported.

Just what the ranchers will propose adding to the anti-trespass ordinance now on the books was not decided.

Booths Being Let

Contracts for the booths at Novato's 10th annual Western Weekend are now being let by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the celebration which will run from June 16 through 20th. Robert Oddone of 285 San Felipe Way, Novato, is chairman of the booths committee.

Dedication Of Parking Lot Slated

Sausalito's renovated city parking lot facing Vina Del Mar Plaza will be dedicated Saturday at 10 a.m. by Mayor Jan Paul Dyk and city councilmen.

The lot, formerly an all-day parking area with a 25-cent coin gate and a minimum of 25 metered spaces, will now be a 10-cent an hour lot with senior citizens hired as attendants.

Seven people have been hired, said City Mgr. Charles A. Brown. They range in age from 58 to 78.

The attendants will wear blue coats and yachting caps.

Entrance to the lot, once on Park Street, is now on Anchor Street. The lot holds 187 cars.

Demo Council Blasted For Viet Stand

The Marin Republican Central Committee last night blasted the California Democratic Council for its Viet Nam stand and charged two Marin County supervisors with "introduction of partisanship at this level of local government."

A resolution introduced by Charles Michals of Kentfield and passed unanimously by committee criticizes Supervisors Byron W. Leydecker and Thomas T. Storer for accepting appointments to the executive committee of the First Congressional District Democratic Caucus.

They have "assumed active leadership roles in the affairs of one political party in a way which could adversely affect working relationships in their elected positions," says the resolution.

The committee declared its "opposition to the threatened injection of partisan politics in Marin County government."

A second resolution, proposed by Paul R. Haerle of San Rafael, declares that the California Democratic Council last weekend "repudiated the nation's policy in Viet Nam as enunciated by President Johnson."

It calls on the Marin Democratic Central Committee and Democratic State Chairman Roger Kent of Kentfield "to immediately repudiate and denounce the actions of CDC and approve the nation's actions in Viet Nam."

The CDC, meeting in Sacramento last weekend, called for a halt to further bombing of North Viet Nam and a cease-fire and a diplomatic settlement of the problem.

State GOP Is Urged To Pull Together

Republicans must eliminate "provincialism" and factional splits if they are to begin winning elections in California, the state chairman of the Republican Central Committee warned Marin Republicans last night.

Dr. Gaylord B. Parkinson of El Cajon spoke at the Marin County Republican Central Committee meeting in the San Rafael courthouse.

Parkinson acknowledged that Marin Republicans did well in the elections last November, winning State Senate, Assembly and congressional races. But he warned this is not enough. He called on all Republicans to think in terms of California as a whole, not in terms of Southern or Northern California or one county.

Republicans are badly outmanned in the State Legislature because "frankly, we got pretty darn provincial," he declared.

He also warned against factional splits within the party. "It is the height of arrogance for someone to come up and read somebody else out of the party," he said.

Stamp Swapping Session Planned

A stamp swapping session will feature the meeting of the Tamalpais Stamp Club Friday at 7:30 p.m. in room 118 of Redwood High School, Larkspur, president Donald M. McPherson of Corte Madera announced.

The club meets the second and fourth Fridays of each month. Hereafter, auction sales — in which non-members also may bid—will be held at the first meeting each month, McPherson said.

Expert To Speak On Life In Ocean

Zoologist and oceanographer Eugene C. Henderlie of Monterey Peninsula College will open a 10-week lecture series called "The Ocean: A Last Frontier" at 8 p.m. March 31 at College of Marin, Kentfield.

Hhis talk will deal with the sea as an environment for life. The series is co-sponsored by the college and the University of California Extension in cooperation with Scripps Institution of Oceanography.

12-STORY CENTER PLANS DETAILED

Larkspur Commission Concerned Over Parking Space At Retirement Building

By ROBERT M. COPPOCK

Larkspur planning commissioners last night listened to a detailed report on plans for the 12-story Tamalpais Retirement Center, then gave special study to the question of parking on the six-acre Greenbrae site.

The question of the building's height, which caused a major controversy last summer, was not mentioned. But Commissioner Robert H. Lee raised repeated questions about whether the parking shown could actually be provided.

Plans were referred to planning consultant John David Erickson for a report, with special attention to parking.

The plans presented by architect Benson Eschenbach show 172 parking spaces for residents, but 70 of these would be for compact cars. An additional 75 parking spaces for employees are shown.

The land use permit for the building, granted last July 15 by the city council, called for a parking space for each of the 280 rooms, unless the developer, Valley Investment Co., could prove so many were not needed.

Eschenbach presented a study showing that only about 27 per cent of the residents would be expected to own cars, especially since the firm will charge $30 a month extra for a parking place.

James Frush Jr., in charge of sales for the center, said other retirement centers in California have far fewer parking spaces than planned for the one in Larkspur. He said the average age of residents at first will be about 74, but will rise to 82 over the years.

A limousine service will be provided, he added.

Lee was not satisfied. He said he did not believe the zoning ordinance would allow the small parking spaces to be counted, and also noted that some parking stalls would be blocked by others.

Frush said a parking attendant would be provided.

Initially, Lee said the plans showed some regular parking stalls too small to meet city requirements.

Chairman William G. Fleckles asked about trees on the slope below the building and was told only one or two were expected to be cut.

Action on a lot split to create the six-acre parcel for the project was also held over until April 13, when Erickson is to make his report.

The commission quickly approved plans for an ice rink at East Ward Street and Rice Lane.

Haggling Ends On Hospital Architect Fee

After months of haggling, the Marin Hospital District board last night agreed to a compromise in the final payment of fees to architect Robert Stanton of Carmel for work on the Babcock Wing of Marin General Hospital.

The district and the architect had disagreed to the tune of $33,967.03 on how much was still owed on the fee. Last night, on motion by board member Hadden W. Roth, the board agreed to pay $15,961.82.

The action came on the recommendation of two former presidents of the district board, John O'Connell and Phillip Kennedy. They were charged two months ago with the job of negotiating with Stanton.

Part of the money disallowed was based on a misinterpretation by Stanton of the contract, resulting in erroneous billings.

The board held a six-minute closed session with attorney Harold F. Riede to discuss court cases involving Dr. Stanford W. Ascherman's request for staff privileges.

The Marin Hospital District board also:

1. Approved writing off $9,273.74 in bad debts.
2. Set an auction of surplus equipment for April 14.
3. Heard that the March of Dimes National Foundation would endow a shelf in the medical library, stocking it with books on congenital defects.
4. Denied claims of James Scott for $30,000 for injuries he said he received last June 21 falling from a hospital bed and of Lynn Willcutt for $50,000 for alleged burns from a heat lamp.

Trustee Gwendolyn M. Champion was absent.

Noise Resounds Around Tiburon

By ELLEN BRY

The noise from one business on Tiburon's main street resounded as far as the city council meeting room in Del Mar School last night.

Councilmen unanimously agreed to have City Atty. Robert L. Conn draw up an anti-noise ordinance. It will be up to him to distinguish a "good" noise from a "bad" noise.

The action came as a result of complaints from representatives of four other businesses and offices, the Bird and Hound, Tahitian Tikis Imports, Tiburon Flowers and Dr. Paul Wilson, all on Main Street.

They wrote the council that Musee Mecanique, located under the Dock Restaurant, is using a loud speaker to play "rinky-tink music continually."

The "museum" houses mechanical toys and mechanical curiosities. The collection, open to the public, is operated by Edward Zelinsky, son of building owner Fred G. Zelinsky; George K. Whitney of Belvedere, whose family operates Whitney's at the Beach amusement center in San Francisco, and Floyd Gillman.

"They play the same songs over and over and over again and are disturbing our peace and quiet," said the letter from the business neighbors.

"We . . . think it would be for the betterment of the community to have an ordinance passed against this type of noise."

Similar complaints in past years against other businesses which broadcast noise onto Main Street, tourist center of the city, have been quieted by citizen pressure.

City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose noted in a letter to Mrs. George Berticevich of Tahitian Tikis that "I made some efforts to achieve cooperative restraint of the practice, but without success."

As councilmen moved toward ordering the ordinance to be drawn up, Charles Tijernia, president of the Tiburon National Bank, protested.

"People are beginning to be afraid to invest in businesses in Tiburon, afraid they'll be councilized," said Tijernia.

"It's not a hospital zone," protested Arthur R. Formanek of the Harbor Light Tavern at 20 Main Street, which has also brought protests from neighboring businessmen because of loud radio music being played through an open window.

"Every business should do its advertising without harming its neighbors," commented Mayor Gordon W. Strawbridge.

Traffic Study Set In Novato

The Novato City Council last night ordered a traffic study of Diablo Avenue between Highway 101 and Novato Boulevard.

On recommendation of Lawrence A. Coleman, director of public works, Wilbur Smith and Associates, Inc., of San Francisco will make the study at a cost not to exceed $3,000. The company will study traffic patterns and the advisability of moving the intersection south of its present location to get rid of a bottleneck, Coleman said.

This might involve relocating the De Long Avenue portion east of the highway, he reported.

The Novato City Council also:

1. Approved a $150 annual uniform allowance for all police officers. In the past the city has given this allowance for only the first year.
2. Approved a lifetime license of $1 for bicycles. In the past it has been 50 cents per year.
3. Authorized City Mgr. J. Julien Baget to inform the county board of supervisors that Novato is interested in the development of Southern Marin, especially Marincello and its effect on the traffic pattern for Novato commuters.
4. Approved annexation of 62 acres at Sutro Avenue and Vineyard Road.
5. Approved the construction of a restaurant in the Novato Fair Shopping Center and the master plan of apartments for Richard Connell on four acres on South Novato Boulevard south of the Nave Shopping Center.
6. In a reversal of a previous decision, returned four and one-half acres at Armstrong and Cherry streets, owned by Ralph T. McGrath, to multiple residential zoning.
7. Approved the tentative map of Bahia Unit 1 of 397 lots on 255 acres east of Bugeia Lane and west of the Petaluma River. It will have all underground utilities to conform with a new city ordinance.
8. Introduced an ordinance rezoning from duplex to planned commercial the former Grant School property at Highway 101 and Grant Avenue, recently purchased by Douglas M. Christensen from the State Department of Public Works.

Novato Sets Contest For 'Cleanup Queen'

Novato will have a "Miss Novato Cleanup" queen during its two-week cleanup campaign in May, Mrs. Lucile Cannon, chairman of the city council cleanup committee, announced last night.

The queen will be selected from girls enrolled in the teenage recreation program sponsored by the city parks and recreation department.

Money Called Factor In Proposed Schools Move

Money is a factor in the proposed move of the Marin County schools office to the McGraw-Hill plant in Corte Madera.

Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows said today that if the schools office should be moved, the county health department will probably be expanded into its space at the Civic Center.

The county can get federal assistance up to two-thirds of construction cost for space provided by local governments for health department offices, he said.

The schools office now occupies 11,000 square feet at the Civic Center. The county is negotiating for rental of 17,000 square feet in the McGraw-Hill building when McGraw-Hill moves to a new building near Novato a year hence.

County Administrator Alan Bruce said the proposal for the move will be formally presented to the board of supervisors on April 6.

Supervisors Holding Up On Hotel Tax

Imminence of passage of a proposed state - wide transient room occupancy tax will determine how soon the Marin County Board of Supervisors acts on a similar proposed 4 per cent county-wide tax.

The supervisors yesterday agreed to consider the desirability of imposing the county-wide tax, the cost of collecting it and the future use of the increased revenue the tax were imposed on use of hotel and motel rooms for less than 30 days.

A bill for such a tax on a statewide basis has been introduced in the Assembly.

U.S. Bar Leader Cites Crime Rate

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Lewis F. Powell Jr., president of the American Bar Assn. said yesterday that willful law violators and those who use civil disobedience instead of courts to challenge laws are "eroding the very foundation of our democracy."

Powell, of Richmond, Va., told the Bar Association of San Francisco and the Lawyers' Club that the increasing crime rate is a national problem.

"The crime rate is increasing five times faster than our population," he said, "but Americans — unless their immediate families are involved — are generally apathetic."

Redwood High GOP Posts To Brothers

Michael Aylwin of Ross was elected president of the Republican Club at Redwood High School yesterday.

Rufus Aylwin of Ross, Michael's brother, was elected vice president; John Campbell of Greenbrae, secretary; Bronik Romanowsky, treasurer, and Michael Greene, Greenbrae.

Novato Council Changes Speed Limits, Parking

On recommendation of its traffic safety committee, the Novato City Council last night approved several changes in speed limits and parking restrictions.

A 25-mile speed limit was placed on McClay Road from Center Road to the city limits, and extended 1,100 feet south beyond Arthur Street on South Novato Boulevard.

Diagonal parking is to be replaced by parallel parking on Grant Avenue from First Street east to 125 feet east of Highway 101.

Ignacio Boulevard was designated as a through street.

"No parking" zones were established on the west side of Diablo Avenue north of Center Road, on both sides of Vallejo Avenue for 100 feet each side of First Street, and on the west side of First Street 60 feet south of Vallejo.

Cub Scout Pack Hears Of Ecuador

Exchange student Daniel Rodriquez, 17, will tell members of Greenbrae's Cub Scout Pack 51 about life in his hometown of Guayaquil, Ecuador, at the pack's 7:45 p.m. meeting today in Greenbrae School.

Pack members have "adopted" an 8-year-old Guayaquil boy through Foster Parents, Inc., international goodwill plan. The scouts are raising $15 a month for his support and education through pack projects. They also send the South American youngster monthly packages and letters.

Guest speaker Rodriquez is attending Novato High School and living with Mr. and Mrs. Lauren Eltin of Novato. He will be graduated this spring.

Summer Recreation Leaders To Be Sought

Summer recreation leaders and instructors will be needed soon by the San Anselmo Park and Recreation Department, according to park director Andrew J. Snyder Jr.

The department will pay from $1.30 to $2.50 an hour, depending on experience and qualifications of workers. The program will include social activities, athletics, music and dance, arts and crafts, playground programs and special activities. Applications may be obtained at the San Anselmo City Hall.

Two-Story School Plan Is Abandoned

The San Rafael Board of Education last night abandoned hope of erecting a two-story elementary school on a five-acre Canal Street site.

The 4-1 decision, with Bella H. Aaron dissenting, came after architect A. Mackenzie Cantin made a detailed presentation in an effort to resolve earlier conflicting reports as to why a two-story school could not be built.

Mrs. Aaron noted she objected to buying the site in the first place. Two other board members, Walter J. Doll and Carl J. Brown, said they were disappointed with the situation but would go along with the one-story plans.

The conflict arose last month when Cantin said upstairs partitions would not line up with those on the first floor. After the same meeting, Schools Supt. Bert C. Corona said soil limitations barred the second story. Two weeks later, Doll complained that he wanted to know which explanation was correct.

Last night, Cantin indicated the truth lay somewhere in a combination of both. He said the building was bound to settle on the filled land, but this was not so important as the question of whether it settled evenly.

If the interior walls on the second floor were not in the same places as those on the first, he said, the building would be weakened by uneven settling.

Cantin said there would be no problem if the district would be willing to build a "box like building with a repetitive pattern of rooms," but suggested the one story layout, with various sizes of rooms, would be more flexible.

Mrs. Aaron said she might like to see such a "box like" design. She said her fellow board members had agreed to buy the site on the understanding "from the experts" that a two story school could be put there.

"I for one, was relying on this (the two story plan) in going for this site," said Doll. "I am highly disappointed to learn now that we cannot do it."

From the audience, one-time school board candidate Edythe Tait asked whether part of the school could be one-story and the rest two-story. Cantin said that would not be economical.

At the discussion's end, Corona was asked if he was satisfied with Cantin's presentation. He said he was. The board then approved preliminary plans for the one-story school.

Police Question Art Thieves On Crocker Thefts

HILLSBOROUGH (AP) — Police agencies from outside the San Fracisco Bay Area have questioned three persons they say are known fine art thieves in connection with the $500,000 theft of paintings from the W. W. Crocker mansion in Hillsborough.

Hillsborough Police Chief Russell Fisher said yesterday the three specialize in art theft. But he said they were not linked through clues of the crime. He refused to disclose their identities.

Fisher said the theft of the 10 paintings—including two oils by Van Gogh and another by Renoir—could have been done by amateurs and was probably done by panic-stricken art lovers with "a knowledge of the home and a systematic layout of the Crocker mansion."

The paintings were taken from the 53-room mansion of the late W. W. Crocker, wealthy San Francisco banker. His third wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Coleman Crocker, and two children by a previous marriage are involved in a court fight over the settlement of the $37 million estate.

Gris[illegible] Find Just A Fishy Story

JACKSON (AP)—A rock collector from Napa, E. H. Gould Jr., and his wife found a fresh grave yesterday in a remote area outside Jackson where they were hunting precious stones.

Gould uncovered a portion of the shallow grave and dug down with his hands until he felt flesh.

He and his wife rushed into Jackson where he told Amador County sheriff's deputy James Fergulia about the grave.

Gould and Fregulia returned to the grave site. They dug cautiously for several minutes and uncovered a mound of spoiled bass, which they speculated had been cleaned out of somebody's freezer.

Charges Filed To Fire San Rafael Teacher

After briefly questioning whether they were going about it in the right way, members of the San Rafael Board of Education last night filed formal charges to fire a San Rafael High School teacher.

Board member Bella H. Aaron objected to the matter being brought up in public session, but withdrew her objection after reading a copy of an opinion on the matter by County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney.

Their action gives language teacher John M. Swenson five days to file an appeal and demand a hearing.

Details of the charges were not discussed. Schools Supt. Bert C. Corona had said earlier that Swenson was accused of browbeating students and failing to carry out classroom duties.

The board renewed contracts for about 270 teachers, including tenure for 30, in the elementary and high school districts, and approved appointments of 15 classified employees.

Swenson is now on leave of absence due to illness.

Anti-Dog Spray Helps Postman

WASHINGTON (AP) — The postman's best friend, a dog repellant, has increased by 40 per cent the likelihood that he will swiftly complete his appointed rounds in one piece.

That's the progress report Asst. Postmaster General Richard J. Murpny recently gave the House Appropriations Committee.

Dogs sank their teeth into postmen 7,000 times last year, costing them more than $1 million in sick leave and doctor bills, Murphy said. But over the last five months — since the carriers began carrying a repellant which keeps Fido at a distance — disabling dog bites were reduced 40 per cent, Murphy told the committee.

1965-66 School Calendar Continues To Plague Board

The 1965-66 school calendar continued to plague members of the San Rafael Board of Education last night.

The board received a letter from Albert Gautraud, president of the San Rafael Teachers Assn., protesting its March 9 action changing the calendar from 178 to 179 days.

Grautraud complained that the board should have restricted itself "to accepting or rejecting the plan," then gone back to the teachers if it wanted another one.

"We are still entitled to use our own judgment," commented Chairman C. Paul Bettini. "I can't see the necessity for this protest."

The letter "A" in its various forms has been at the head of the alphabet as far back as it can be traced in history.

Board Goes Along With Idea To Close San Quentin School

Members of the San Rafael Board of Education last night offered no objection to a staff plan to close San Quentin School at the end of this semester.

No vote was taken on the proposal, contained in a six-page report on expected enrollment in the city's elementary schools.

School Supt. Bert C. Corona said parents of the school's 33 pupils would be notified of the planned shut-down, thus giving them a chance to voice objection. None was offered last night.

The school's pupils, and one teacher will be transfered to Sun Valley School next year. the other teacher is retiring.

The report also recommended that six new classroom teachers, plus two teachers for educationally handicapped pupils and another for mentally retarded ones, be added next year.

Portable classrooms, it said, should be kept at the four schools which now have them. It recommended moving two portables from San Rafael High School to Laurel Dell Primary and Intermediate schools.

The board also received a report on the future of the adult education program, which stands to lose more money once Hamilton Air Force Base personnel are eliminated by merger of the Novato and San Jose school districts next July 1.

Asst. Supt. Mitchell L. Voydat said he is studying several possible solutions, including the idea of alternating the program between San Rafael and Terra Linda high schools.

Board member Walter J. Doll pointed out that "one last alternative would be to drop the program altogether."

Voydat replied that he considered this "so drastic I didn't even mention it."

About half of the 45 persons in the audience were persons connected with the Cooperative Nursery School, part of the adult program, which was highly praised by board members.

They applauded when board member Carl J. Brown said he not only planned to see that the nursery school continued, but would ask his colleagues to "squeez in a little more to make it even better."

The San Rafael Board of Education also:

1. Rejected bids on lockers and kitchen cabinets for the San Rafael High School addition.
2. Awarded a $15,731.90 contract to Educators Co. for wardrobe cabinets and cabinet work in the addition.
3. Split a $33,532.63 contract for library furniture and equipment for the high school addition among Remington Rand, American Seating and San Quentin Prison. Largest portion, $17,417.52, went to American Seating.
4. Bought library furniture for the addition at Davidson School from the prison for $11,750.
5. Approved rental agreements totalling $5,800 for use of three classrooms by the county schools office for special education.
6. Learned that District Business Mgr. Charles L. Condrotte had decided against painting San Rafael High School tennis courts green, since it would add $400 to the $1,800 cost for two courts.
7. Approved a high school summer program post poning to next meeting action on an elementary school summer schedule.

Firemen Give Aid

Tamalpais firemen rushed Mrs. Bonnie Sanders of 759 Marin Drive, Tamalpais Valley, to Marin General Hospital at 5:38 p.m. yesterday after she complained of breathing trouble and pains in her heart. Mrs. Sanders was returned home after examination

Trustees Call For Tax Ballot

Four trustees of Lagunitas School District last night completed the formalities to call for a June 8 tax over-ride election.

In a special meeting, they passed resolutions for the election, in which voters will be asked to approve hiking the tax limit 20 cents to $2.85 per $100 assessed valuation.

Trustee William G. McBride was absent.

Teen-Ager Missing

Renee Lee Firman, 15, daughter of Allen Firman of Lagunitas Road in Lagunitas, was still missing from home today, sheriff's officers reported. She left home Saturday following an argument, the father told deputies.

Quail Hill Apartment Project Withdrawn

The controversial Quail Hill apartment project application was withdrawn by the Draper Companies in advance of last night's San Rafael Planning Commission meeting, but the commissioners got into a lengthy debate over another apartment project in the Terra Linda annexation.

They finally postponed until April 13 decision on whether to grant Meadowbrook Developers architectural approval for a 36-unit apartment building on Professional Center Parkway. The augury wasn't favorable.

The building would be on a parcel of land that totals 108-200 square feet, according to City Planner George H. Rodgers' calculations—barely over the minimum of 3,000 square feet per apartment required in the area.

On a rather steep hillside, it would require a 700-foot driveway from Professional Center Parkway. Commissioner V. Judson Klein said he did not think the code contemplated an apartment for each 3,000 square feet on a lot which requires a 700-foot driveway.

"I think it is unworkable," said Commissioner John A. Miskimen.

"There's a question in my mind whether we could fight a fire if we had one there," said Commissioner Charles J. Hendrickson.

When it came out that the fire chief had not seen the plans, Commissioner Pat Hetherton moved for postponement to April 13.

Engineer Jack Hill, representing the developer, objected to that. Chairman Fred C. Robbins Jr. gave him a choice: a turndown last night or the postponement. He took the postponement.

Only a few Terra Lindans were on hand ready to protest the plans for Quail Hill, the word having got around that it would be postponed. Planner Rodgers announced it had been withdrawn, with the Draper Companies planning to re-submit it after holding a series of meetings with residents in the area.

Present plan calls for 951 apartment units on the 82-acre hill adacent to Northate Shoppin Center, with one acre set aside for administrative-professional use. A proposal for 1,186 apartments a year ago drew mass protests and was rejected by both planning commission and city council.

The San Rafael Planning Commission also:

1. Postponed until April 13 consideration of planned community zoning and a use permit for 254 cluster units for Dubin Developers in 100-acre San Rafael Park on Lucas Valley Road east of Las Gallinas Avenue.
2. Heard nobody in opposition at first public hearing on rezoning 418-420 Belle Avenue, across from the rear of the Aldersly Danish Home, from duplex to apartment use. Second hearing will be April 13. Byron Clayton is the applicant.
3. Approved the final condominium map for Douglas M. Christensen's 82-unit Peacock Gap Unit 6 on Biscayne Drive east of the Peacock Gap Country Club.
4. Postponed to April 13, to await an opinion from the city attorney on legality, request of San Rafael Newport Co. to change Porto Bello West from a condominium to a town house subdivision.
5. Approved the final map of P. J. Tarrant Construction Co.'s six-lot Madrona Subdivision Unit 2 on Greenwood Avenue near Madrona Street.
6. Approved a resubmitted tentative map for five-lot Toyon Estates Unit 2 at the end of Clark Street, the original approval having expired without improvements being started.
7. Refused to allow illumination of a billboard sign advertising the Meadows beside Highway 101 at Terra Linda, but agreed to extend the temporary use permit for the sign another six months.
8. Granted architectural approval for remodeling of the Marin Sanitary Service building at 616 Canal Street.
9. Denied Angelo Columbo a lot split on Brodea Way at Jewell Street which would create a 5,250-foot lot that Planner Rodgers called "a double dogleg." Columbo said he would appeal to the city council.
10. Granted William Allen a lot width variance and architectural approval for a triplex and one single-family dwelling at 23 Valencia Avenue, between Belle Avenue and Jewell Street.
11. Set hearings for April 13 and 27 on rezoning four lots on the south side of Jones Place between First and Clayton streets from duplex to apartments. Frank Sampietro asked the rezoning for one of the lots; the commission added the others on its own initiative.

Commissioners Thomas R. O'Toole and Carl S. Brown were absent.

American Motors Gain Fraction In Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market seemed to be clinging to an irregularly higher trend at the close today. Trading was moderately active.

American Motors gained a fraction in a spate of late activity following its favorable report on car sales.

Ford, up about 2 points, rode on a very encouraging sales report while General Motors dipped a fraction.

IBM lost 2 and Xerox more than 1.

Gains exceeding a point were made by Pfizer, Illinois Central, Douglas Aircraft and Du Pont.

U.S. Steel and Control Data were fractional gainers.

Volume for the day was estimated at 5.2 million shares compared with 4.83 million yesterday.

Here was the picture near the close:

Erie-Lackawanna, up nearly a point to a new high, and Studebaker, down nearly a point to a new low, were close rivals for the honors as most active stock.

Ford's good sales record helped it advance more than a point while General Motors was unchanged. Most major steels moved higher, with Jones & Laughlin up more than a point.

Gains of a point or better were made by Eastern Air Lines, United Air Lines, Control Data, Douglas Aircraft, Amerada, Air Products, Braniff Airways, Bucyrus-Erie, Checker Motors, Cerro, Lukens Steel, Moore-McCormack, Nopco, Northwest Airlines and Socony-Mobil.

Ahead nearly 2 were Hawaiian Telephone and Time Inc.

Castle & Cooke slid more than 2; Maytag and American Zinc more than a point each.

Prices were mostly higher in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds were mostly unchanged.

Copter Line Losses Less During 1964

San Francisco and Oakland Helicopter Airlines, Inc., has announced a loss of $186,629 for the year ended Dec. 31, 1964, compared to a loss of $306,881 for the year 1963.

Loss per share in 1964 was 28 cents, compared to 62 cents in 1963, based on shares outstanding at the end of each year and after giving retroactive effect to the conversion of preferred and common stock on Feb. 19, 1965. The 1964 loss was the lowest since SFO's inception in 1961.

M. F. (Mike) Bagan, president, said he anticipated continued earnings improvement in 1965 with the introduction of the new S-61N twin-turbine helicopter, opening of a new heliport in Lafayette and scheduled resumption of service into downtown San Francisco in the near future.

SFO is said to be the only nonsubsidized scheduled helicopter airline in the United States and the only one to hold a permanent Certificate of Public Necessity and Convenience.

INCOME TAX FACTS

No Fast Writeoff For Real Estate

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, C.P.A.

You can no longer use real estate in your trade or business, or for the production of income, and claim a fast write off for depreciation, and then sell the real estate and have all the profit taxed as capital gain.

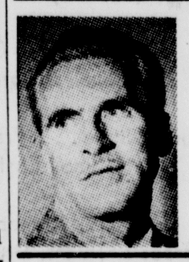

Peter J. Wikel

Now, part of the depreciation claimed in 1964 and later years, in excess of the straight-line rate, may be taxed as ordinary income in the year that you sell the real estate.

If you held the property for 20 months, or less, 100 per cent of such excess depreciation is taxed as ordinary income. This percentage figure declines 1 per cent for each month that you hold the property over 20, so that at the end of 10 years none of the excess depreciation would be taxed as ordinary income.

These rules are complex and the above is an over-simplification.

If this applies to you, consider purchasing the book, well written, in understandable language, called "Your Federal Income Tax—1965 Edition for Individuals, I.R.S. Publication No. 17." This book can be obtained from the Superindendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D.C., or from the local office of the District Director of Internal Revenue. The price is 50 cents and it is an excellent investment.

Do You Have An Invention Ready? Check With The Experts First

Do you have an idea or invention you believe can be turned into money?

Every now and then I am approached by "backyard scientists" who are sure they have hit the jackpot with something original and want my advice on what to do about it so they can collect. Since I am neither a patent expert nor marketing expert I usually suggest that they talk with one or the other before counting their royalties.

Leroy Rudolph, vice president of the San Rafael office of the Bank of America, calls my attention to the latest issue of this bank's "Small Business Reporter," available through local branches. Its treatment of "Marketing a New Consumer Product" won't guarantee that your gadget will be a success, nor rule it out as a flop. But it does give you practical guide lines for estimating your chances — and what procedures to follow.

If you wind up feeling less enthused about your prospects after you read it than when you first dreamed up the idea, remember that 90 per cent of all new products fail — usually within four years of their introduction.

W. J. (TOBY) MANUEL of Larkspur has been appointed promotional sales manager at Candlestick, Village Fair, Sausalito, and will be in charge of display, promotions and public relations for the firm's three shops in Sausalito, San Francisco and Santa Barbara. He was formerly manager of Gilardi's Gift Shop in Larkspur.

The San Francisco shop, located at 12 Tillman Place, was just recently acquired by Candlestick owners Glenn Johnson and Robert Campbell.

HAROLD H. WARRINER of Terra Linda has been appointed a registered representative of Waddell and Reed, Inc., national distributor of the United Funds group of mutual funds. Retired from the Air Force in 1964 after 30 years of service, Warriner has been with the Emporium since last June.

APPOINTED to 1965 committees of the United States Savings and Loan League are Fred F. Enemark, executive vice president of Marin County Savings and Loan Assn. and R. Keith Dearth, president of Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn. Enemark will serve on the investments and mortgage lending committee. Dearth has been appointed to the committee on internal operations.

Crawford Reinartz

WARREN M. CRAWFORD JR. of San Rafael has been promoted to assistant manager of Wells Fargo Bank's San Rafael office. He was formerly in the commercial loan department of the San Francisco head office.

Crawford joined Wells Fargo last fall after 30 years of banking experience on the East Coast. For two years he was a columnist for the national banking magazine, Burroughs Clearing House.

NEW ASSISTANT CASHIER at Redwood National Bank, San Rafael, is Ronald D. Reinartz, formerly of Montana where he was cashier of the Billings State Bank. Former banking experience includes having been an examiner in Minneapolis, where he worked with Redwood's cashier William Waksvik (who persuaded him to move to Marin), and chief auditor of the Austin State Bank in Texas. He and his wife and two children have moved to Novato.

JAMES F. JEFFRIES of Santa Venetia heads a new department of the Tamalpais Insurance Agency for variable investment plans. Primarily this deals with the agency's specialty in the field of pension planning offered to individuals.

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN

Hippo Burgers, Pachyderm Pie May Be Key To Billy's Success

Billy Casper, the new touring pro for Peacock Gap, made his first official appearance at the San Rafael golf and country club yesterday, first at a press conference, followed by an exhibition round of golf and then at a clinic for youngsters.

Actually, we and the other sports editors and golf writers who attended the press conference felt a little out of place. They should have sent medical and food editors, I thought, because Casper delved considerably into the subject of his allergies and diet.

Sports page readers know that golf's leading money winner of 1965 (35 grand) had to quit the Jacksonville Open last week because of an allergic reaction. "It was a scary experience," he admitted. "I had heart palpitations and almost passed out four or five times during the first three holes. I had to pull out."

He later learned it was somethin' he et — namely lamb, apples and beet sugar. Add those to the long list of other foods the golf star can not eat—such as pork, oranges, eggs, peas, beans, wheat and chocolate — and you can see how much difficulty he encounters as a travelling man. Some of the goodies he CAN eat, and does, include bear meat, venison, reindeer, hippopotamus and elephant steaks. Now I ask you.

AS ANY traveller will tell you, you just don't walk into a restaurant and nonchalantly order a hippo burger or a slice of pachyderm pie.

Laughed golf's 33-year-old moneybags, "It (the diet) creates somewhat of a problem because in a restaurant we have to corner the waitress and give her specific orders. For example, I can't eat wheat in any form and many of the seasonings the restaurant chefs use contain wheat. As a result, on the tour we try to get an apartment or a motel with kitchen so my wife Shirley can do the cooking. We eat very plain food."

By the way, the Caspers have three children — Linda Maree, 10; Billy, 8, and Robert, 4.

THE ALLERGY-troubled golf star was placed on a strict diet last August and admits the benefits have been two-fold.

For one thing, his physique has improved considerably as he has trimmed off 30 pounds to 190 and has shrunk from size 40 to 36 in the britches. The bullies on the pro tour can no longer call him "Fatso" or "Tubby." And, although he won't win any Mr. America titles, he can stand sideways now without blocking your view.

Casper also says "this eating program" has helped his game, too. "I'm in more command of myself," he boasted, pointing to his three tournament victories since last August. "Also, I've been out of the top 10 money winners in only three tournaments since then."

THE NATIVE Californian, who has won 25 major tournaments, including the 1959 U. S. Open, and $372,067.27 official PGA money (second only to Arnold Palmer) in less than 10 years, said his main goal right now is to "get healthy for the Masters" tourney next month.

Present yesterday to officially greet Casper and get his signature on the $10,000-per-year Peacock contract was Jerome C. Draper Jr., the dynamic 41-year-old head of The Draper Companies which own and are futher developing The Gap. Said Draper, who figures to reap a wealth of publicity from Casper's association with the club, "Maybe the change in home clubs will mean the Masters title for you this year."

CASPER EARNED a portion of his salary right off the bat by saying, "This area is one of the prettiest I've seen in some time. It is one of the fashion plates of the Bay Area. I'm sure we'll have a long and enjoyable association."

Casper later explained his association with Peacock would be primarily as the touring pro, but said he plans "to make an appearance here now and then."

Incidentally, he is quite a fisherman and said he's anxious to take a crack at the Bay Area's noted salmon and striped bass fisheries.

GAP GOSSIP: The Peacock clubhouse looked like Yankee Stadium locker room yesterday, what with ex-Yank pinstripers Artie Shallock and Joe DeMaestri on hand for a round of goof.

Some of the other local sports notables on the scene were Col. Joe Worthington of Hamilton Air Force Base, a fine golfer who plays to a three handicap; Howard Morehouse, the tennis star of San Rafael; ex-nat'l champ and Peacock's lovely tennis pro, Darlene Hard; Father Leonard Scannell, "Parring Priest" from Hamilton AFB; radio-TV personalties Jim Lange, Bob "Red Dog" Fouts and Frank Dill, all Marin residents; ex-Meadow Club pro Bob Moore; Bill McDevitt and Art Dettner of the Marin Tournament of Stars committee, on hand to get a tentative agreement from Casper to play in their Sept. 19 tourney at Peacock.

McDevitt also said, Bob Hope has given us a written commitment to play here Sept. 19 and Dean Martin says he'll come if at all possible. Things are shaping up already!"

Stuart Talks, Bennett Hurts Shoulder

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated press Sports Writer

Dick Stuart, whose long distance home runs are exceeded only by the enormity of his immodesty, was talking about the winter trade that sent him from Boston to Philadelphia for pitcher Dennis Bennett.

"Wouldn't it be something if Bennett came up with a sore arm this season?" asked Stuart, who feels Boston didn't receive enough in exchange for him. "Do you think the Red Sox brass would get jumped on a little?"

The Red Sox brass might be pondering that very thought today following Bennett's departure from an exhibition baseball game with a sore left shoulder.

The painful exit came during the fourth inning yesterday, just after the Los Angeles Angels scored the run that eventually gave them a 1-0 victory.

After allowing only one hit in 3 1-3 innings, Bennett was rocked for a double by Jim Fregosi and a triple by Lou Clinton. The southpaw threw three balls to Costen Shockley, then signaled Manager Billy Herman to the mound.

"My arm hurt like a toothache from the time I started warming up," Bennett explained afterward. "I was gradually losing my stuff so I felt why force it?

The situation, though, could have Boston officials worrying about the value of the 25-year-old hurler, who was plagued with arm trouble last season and finished with a 12-14 record for the Phillies.

In fact there even has been speculation as to what would happen with the trade if Bennett couldn't pitch. General Manager John Quinn of the Phillies discussed that possibility earlier this year, saying some adjustment probably would be made.

There is no chance, however, that the deal would be nullified and Stuart returned to Boston. The adjustment most likely would come in the form of another pitcher.

Stuart, incidentally, singled across the winning run in the ninth inning last night in Philadelphia's 5-4 victory over St. Louis.

Joe Torre slammed two homers and Mack Jones one in Milwaukee's 12-10 victory over Pittsburgh. The Pirates got two homers from Bob Bailey and one from Jim Pagliaroni.

Walt Bond, Rusty Staub, John Bateman and Jim Beauchamp slugged homers as Houston de-

Those Alou Boys Lead Giants Win

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The swinging Alou brothers have solidified right field and also could hold the San Francisco Giants together until two of the club's slugging stars regain full health.

Jesus and Matty Alou do their swinging on the field, by the way—Matty from the heels and Jesus at nearly everything that comes to the plate.

Jesus, a right-handed sophomore, lifted his Cactus League batting average to .416 and left-handed Matty surged to .367 yesterday as the Giants rallied for a 7-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs. Each brother got two hits in four trips, one a double by Jesus.

Willie McCovey, still mincing around on aching feet, also had two hits and now has six in 12 spring attempts. But he and Orlando Cepeda, whose knee has yet to completely recover from off-season surgery, are the two biggest worries for new Manager Herman Franks less than one month away from the National League opener at Pittsburgh April 12.

The Cubs played without stars Ron Santo and Ernie Banks who, with head coach Bob Kennedy, attended the Chicago funeral of Jack Quinlan, the club radio announcer killed last week near Phoenix in an auto crash. Billy Williams also sat out with a sore arm.

Jack Sanford started for San Francisco and gave up three Cub runs on four hits and two walks. He was too high all afternoon.

With the score 3-1 in the fifth, Ed Bailey and Jose Pagan drew walks off starter Calvin Koonce, who then left the game.

Hal Lanier bunted rookie Bob Meischner's first pitch. Jim Stewart, playing for Santo at third, fielded the ball cleanly. But Giant third base coach Charley Fox fooled Stewart by calling for the ball and the throw went to an empty base allowing Bailey and Pagan to score.

Lanier led off the four-run seventh with a triple. Cub reliever Frank Baumann then loaded the bases on walks. Harvey Kuenn's sacrifice fly scored Lanier.

Winner Bobby Bolin got more runs than he needed when Jesus Alou doubled in another run and Matty followed with a two-run single.

Jesus, who got only 11 walks all last season, now wants to cut that down to five or six in 1965.

"I don't worry about walks," explained the youngest baseball

S.F. Quint Tipped In AAU Tourney

DENVER (AP) — Two surprises, Denver's home town entry and the Armed Forces All-Stars, play tonight for the championship of the 58th National AAU Basketball Tournament.

Denver, a weekend fun team that beefed up with some regional college players for the tourney, ousted Akron, Ohio's defending champions 83-78 in last night's semifinals.

The servicemen edged San Francisco Athletic Club 64-63 to set up the first tourney final since 1957 without one of the big AAU powers like Akron or Bartlesville, Okla., defeated by San Francisco in the quarter-finals 80-67.

Akron and San Francisco play for third place.

Denver's unexpected defensive strength marked the upset of Akron. The home town team pulled away from a 20-20 tie after the first 10 minutes to build a 31-23 lead 3:03 before halftime.

The Armed Forces All-Stars never trailed in upsetting San Francisco, but the servicemen's 13-point lead midway of the second half barely lasted against the California team's late comeback.

San Francisco pulled within one point at 60-59 with three minutes left but the All-Stars, getting two free throws on every foul, edged ahead by four points. This lead was enough to withstand a two-hand set shot from midcourt by San Francisco's Lloyd Moffat that banked in at the final horn.

Ollie Johnson of San Francisco was the leading individual performer with 20 points and 21 rebounds. Verne Benson led the Armed Forces with 17.

CASPER HITS PAR ON 'HOME' LINKS

Billy Casper played his first round of golf on his new "home" course yesterday at Peacock Gap and came out with an even par 71.

Casper, one of the top money winners in the Professional Golfers Assn. circuit who recently signed a contract to use Peacock Gap as his home course while on the PGA tour, played the first nine holes in 34 strokes and used 37 on the back nine.

He was heading a foursome that was competing against a foursome topped by Bob Finn, Peacock resident pro, as one of the highlights of "Billy Casper Day" at the San Rafael course. Finn stroked a 37-35 for one over par 72. Par at Peacock Gap is 36-35—71.

The exhibition tourney attracted a gallery of about 500 golfing enthusiasts. Other scores in the tourney were a 73 by Bob Moore of the Corral de Tierra, Salinas; a 78 by Frank Dill and a 90 by Bob Fouts, both of radio and TV; 79 by Art Schallock, former New York Yankee pitcher, and a 78 by Gen. C. F. Necrason of Hamilton Air Force Base.

Following the tourney, Casper gave a clinic for junior golfers. That was followed by a dinner at Peacock Gap. Casper, who earned a total of $90,653.08 last year in official PGA winnings, was to leave today for North Carolina to join the PGA tour.

Azalea Open To Start Tomorrow

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — Fifty professionals, each teamed with three amateurs, polished their games and sought a share of $2,500 prize money today in a pro-amateur tune-up for the Azalea Open Golf Tournament.

The four-day tourney opens tomorrow over the 6,700-yard, par 72 Cape Fear Country Club course. The 17th annual Azalea carries a purse of $28,750. In addition, daily bonus awards will go to low rounds and round leaders.

Al Besselink, whose 282 won top money last year, defends his title in a field of 144.

George Archer and Rod Funseth, two of the rising young stars on the tour who already have won tournaments this year, are among the top challengers. Former Azalea winners in the fold include three-time champ Jerry Barber, Mike Souchak, Howie Johnson and Tom Nieporte.

The fight originally was scheduled for March 19 but Hank injured himself that day when he slipped and fell during road work.

Mrs. Walter Schwartz featured tournament play yesterday for the Los Gallinas Women's Golf Club when she aced the 65-yard third hole, using an eight iron.

$1,075 Fines Levied For Big NHL Brawl

MONTREAL (AP) — Twenty Montreal and Detroit players have been fined a total of $1,075 for participating in a brawl during the final minute of a recent National Hockey League game.

NHL President Clarence Campbell fined Montreal forward Claude Larose $125 and levied $50 fines against nine other Canadiens and 10 Red Wings for leaving their benches — contrary to NHL rule—to take part in the melee at the Montreal Forum March 13.

Last month Campbell fined 16 players a total of $925 after a similar incident in a Toronto-Montreal game.

Campbell doubled the automatic $25 fines for coming off the bench during a fight. Larose, one of the first to leave the bench and the only one to throw a punch, drew the heavier assessment. Neither the 12 players who were on the ice when the trouble started nor the coaches — Toe Blake of Montreal and Sid Abel of Detroit — drew fines.

Detroit's Doug Barkley touched off the brawl with 28 seconds to play by flattening Montreal's Dave Balon with a hard bodycheck. Larose then charged Barkley from the Montreal bench and the other players milled around until order was restored.

Willis Reed Voted NBA Top Rookie

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Knicks, who have rarely picked standouts in the National Basketball Association's draft, have a winner for a change in Willis Reed.

The Knicks knew they had a star in the 6-foot-10 scoring and rebounding star from Grambling, La., College and this was confirmed when Reed was named the NBA's Rookie of the Year by writers and sportscasters. He received a cash award of $200 with the honor.

Hannum Looks Toward NBA Draft

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Rick Barry of Miami, Dave Stallworth of Wichita, Fred Hetzel of Davidson and Ollie Johnson of the University of San Francisco, top the list of possible draft choices for the San Francisco Warriors.

This was indicated yesterday in a telephone conversation with Warrior Coach Alex Hannum, who spoke from Denver, site of the AAU basketball tourney.

The Warriors, who finished last in the Western Division, get the first and third or second and fourth choices May 6 in the NBA draft depending on a flip of a coin with New York, Eastern Division bottom team.

Hannum watched all four except Hetzel at the AAU tournament and made some observations.

"Stallworth has to be a scorer, no matter what league he plays in. He has fantastic offensive ability, although in the game I watched, he didn't play much defense. He's a little on the light side—6-7 and 205 pounds—but he can dribble, tip and hit the jumper."

Hannum said Barry's "only area of doubt is his size—6-6½ and under 200."

Johnson once was believed out of consideration because at 6-8 he is too small for center in the NBA and he seldom took outside shots.

"Ollie has shortcomings as an outside man," Hannum said. "But he's been doing a fantastic job at Denver and I'm giving him some deep thought."

Johnson started showing a baseline jumper in the NCAA regionals and in the AAU.

Also observed by Hannum at Denver was Stallworth's former teammate, 6-10 Nate Bowman. Another possible Warrior selection is Wilden Frazier of Grambling, 6-8½ and 220 pounds. Hannum believes Frazier a better shooter than Grambling graduate Willis Reed, the NBA Rookie of the Year who plays for New York.

Officials Insist Skiers Made A Great Showing

SUN VALLEY, Idah o(AP) — A group of young Americans competed against Europe's top skiers in the 1965 Harriman cup.

Fourth place was the best showing for the United States — Bill Marolt of Aspen, Colo., in the slalom and combined standings.

But spokesmen for the U.S. Ski Association, which is trying to develop a top notch American team for the 1968 Olympics, insist their boys made good showings against the Europeans.

They point out that though the Americans finished down the list, they were only a second or two behind the winners.

The American men skiers are also somewhat younger than most of the Europeans. For example, Austria's Karl Schranz, who won this year's Harriman Cup, is 26 years old.

Marolt, Billy Kidd of Stowe, Vt., and Jimmy Heuga of Tahoe City, Calif., are all 21.

They are being groomed for the Olympics in three years.

Schranz, who won the downhill in the Harriman Cup, also won the downhill at Europe's biggest ski meet this year, the Arlberg-Kandahar.

And Gerhard Nenning, another Austrian, won the slalom at Arlberg-Kandahar.

He finished sixth in the combined at the Harriman Cup.

The French and Swiss also sent their top skiers. Jean Claude Killy, who was second in the Harriman Cup slalom and combined, was also second in the slalom at Arlberg-Kandahar.

Edmund Bruggman of Switzerland is that nation's Alpine champion this year.

Bruggmann didn't finish in the combined at the Harriman Cup because he missed a gate and was disqualified in the slalom.

"I only worry about strikeouts," Jesus said. "I don't like to strike out."

Batting coach Hank Sauer, who believes Jesus can raise his batting average from .274 to over .300 this season, likes the swinging approach.

"You have more trouble getting guys to swing," said Sauer. "You notice that Jesus always gets a piece of the ball."

That includes last Friday when a Cleveland pitcher bounced one to the plate and Jesus hit it. He was thrown out at first on a good play by the third baseman.

"He is a pretty good hitter right now," said Franks. "Why fool around with him? He's more relaxed at the plate than he was a year ago. I don't think he's chasing those outside pitches as much."

feated Washington 7-5 for its fifth straight triumph while Bert Campaneris' three-run blast in the 13th inning shot Kansas City past the New York Yankees 6-5.

San Francisco whipped the Chicago Cubs 7-3 on a four-run seventh inning rally powered by Hal Lanier and brothers Jesus and Matty Alou.

In one of the better pitching performances of the day, John Tsitouris and Ryne Duren combined for a three-hitter in Cincinnati's 9-1 triumph over Detroit. The Tigers didn't get a hit until Dick McAuliffe's single with two out in the seventh.

The New York Mets knocked off Baltimore 5-2 behind the hitting of Danny Napolean. Billy Moran sparked Cleveland to a 10-3 victory over another Angel squad, and the Chicago White Sox stopped Minnesota 3-1. Chicago's Bob Locker blanked the Twins on two hits through the first five innings.

Shadow Of Dark Still Present; Franks Happy With Progress

CONNOLLY

PHOENIX — The 1965 spring training season has kicked an old and universally accepted theory that "there is no sentiment in baseball" in the slats.

They're not exactly pining here over the absence of former manager Alvin Dark but there is an unexplained feeling of restrained emptiness. Some say it is relaxation; others think it is freedom from fear of being chastised. Seems "Antsy Alvin" was the invisible man among Giant players. He controlled the whole show and nobody dared challenge his authority.

Today we find a nervous reaction among Giant players who really are not sure Dark is no longer boss. They stammer and stutter when speaking out-loud for fear "Antsy Alvin" might be lurking somewhere in the shadows. To me it is a hidden asset to Frank's acceptance by Giant personnel.

In Dodgerville, the L.A. players declare out loud how much they miss former coach Leo Durocher. It is quite different here. No one seems to speak for or against, "Antsy Alvin." But it is no secret the absence of Dark is overwhelmingly in favor of the freedom of speech and freedom of movement policy initiated by the boss, Herman Franks.

"HE'S REGULAR: he's understanding; he's following almost to the letter, the style of management he learned as a coach under Durocher," the oldtimers here remark.

The coaches huddle each day and decide on what end of the club seems to lag. One of these days all three coaches will start using the whip and then we shall see how much good the early freedom from fear of chastisement has had on their eagerness and willingness to buckle down to fundamentals.

IT WOULD seem very clubby and kind of me to say right now the Giants look like coming champions. But it "aint so." They look anything like a surefire set ball club. But they are slowly but surely rounding into shape. Even when pitcher Jack Sanford gets wild and hit hard, he's contented in knowing that he can THROW HARD without any fear of hurting his pitching arm.

Willie McCovey stands out there in leftfield like the Statue of Liberty and allows Willie Mays to trot all the way over from centerfield to take pop flies.

Orlando Cepeda jogs lightly, slowly, and not too rarely around the outfield, giving his injured knee a chance to heal fully and completely.

"ALL I can say right now is that I'm happy with the club's progress," Herman Franks says.

"I believe with the number of days yet before the gong rings, we shouldn't be too alarmed over pin point control or sharpened batting eyes. That has to come as the season approaches."

Juan Marichal, nursing a pulled leg muscle, like always, babies it and as a result takes more time than usual to give his coaches the signal he is ready to start pitching again.

THERE IS a feeling here that a sure fire relief pitcher is badly needed before the Giants can say they are ready to take off after the pennant.

Marichal, Sanford, Perry, Hendley, Bolin, Herbel and Priddy are the best bets among the pitchers to last. But a fellow like Lindy McDaniel of the Cubs or somebody on his style is badly needed in a relief role.

CHUCK HILLER deserves a fate better than what the Giants have to offer him. And he is likely to get it. His name is prominently mentioned whenever a trade is considered. But the clubs who want Chuck also want something to boot before they're willing to give up other young and promising men.

TAM, SAN RAFAEL WIN

Swimmers Look Toward Big Meet

By AL KELLY

San Rafael and Tamalpais athletes flexed their swimming legs yesterday in preparation for their meet Friday.

San Rafael swimmers churned past Redwood 62-33 in the San Rafael pool, with a new mark set in the 50 free by Dave Strauss of San Rafael. Jim Allen tied his own record in the 100 free with a time of 50.6.

The San Rafael varsity mermen pushed ahead with two double winners on their side. Denny Arms beat the clock in the 200 free style and 400 free style, while Tom Knopf racked up points in the 200 individual medley and the 100 butterfly events.

Hardly to be outdone at this stage of Marin Athletic League competition, Tamalpais swarmed over Novato Novato 77-18. The 50 free took another licking, with Tam merman Emmett Yeazell setting a new school record of 23.4.

Yeazell and Steve Donaldson were both double winners for the Tam varsity, with Yeazell placing first in the 50 and 100 free, and Donaldson winning in the 200 individual medley and the 400 free.

Class B swimmers for Tam were not to be outdone, producing three double winners for the light weights. Tim Norall took first in the 200 free style and the 100 breast stroke, Jack Shapiro won the 50 free style and the 100 free. Thornton Dilcher took the top spot in the 100 individual medley.

Drake floundered in the Terra Linda pool yesterday, bowing 51-44.

That 50 free style event took another walloping though, as George Girvin broke a record set in 1959 of 23.9 by two tenths of a second. Not quite as good as the Tamalpais-San Rafael marks, but getting up in the world.

Bob Girvin and Gary Trowbridge are still batting for that first place spot for Drake. They tied in the 200 individual medley and Girvin was only a splash behind Trowbridgei n the 100 back stroke.

While the two Drake swimmers were doing their damage, Terra Linda still managed to do some point setting of their own. They finished first in three individual competition events, and took top honors in the 200 medley relay and the 200 free relay.

SAN RAFAEL NINE TOPS RIORDAN 4-2

Marin prep baseball teams generally suffered in their away games yesterday, with only San Rafael coming out on top of the heap. Reports have it that one reason for the losses could be laid to attacks of measles that seem to be going the rounds.

San Rafael pulled a 4-2 win over Riorden in San Francisco, with John Patterson pitching for the Marin team.

Terra Linda tried to hold its own, but got eased out by Analy in Sebastopol 8-6.

Redwood seemed to suffer the most in their away game, losing to Hogan in Vallejo 12-2. The Redwood players tried to hang on, placing a man on base in every inning except the last, but still managed to score only because of the bumbling of the Hogan team.

Big Pow Wows On Hunting To Start

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The California Fish and Game Commission begins its annual round of three meetings to set this year's hunting seasons, limits and regulations in Los Angeles on April 2.

Walter T. Shannon, director of fish and game, has released his department's recommendations for the 1965-66 season and, with one exception, they will raise few eyebrows in the gunning fraternity.

Seasons and limits would be about the same as last year, except the late Sierra deer hunting season would be abbreviated by one week at the end. It would run from Sept. 18-Oct. 31 and be the shortest season in some years.

SUCCESS

If the weatherman does not smile upon the hunters with some stormy weather, a lot of the success of the deer hunting season could be missing.

It's expected the department's recommendation for the shorter season is based more on people management survey than on game management. Despite what some critics may say, this is an important part of the department's philosophy these days and probably should be.

One of the reasons there appears to be little or no built-in controversy in this year's hunting recommendations is that the real hot spot for deer hunting rhubarbs is already fixed in the law and can't be touched by the commission.

START SEPT. 21

This is District 1¾ — all of Modoc, most of Lassen, a strip of Sierra and the eastern portions of Shasta and Siskiyou counties. Under law, the season in all but the southern strip of this district must begin on Tuesday, Sept. 21, and end on Wednesday, Oct. 13. Only three-point bucks may be taken in District 1¾.

In case this special season isn't confusing enough, there's another season that must hold for a strip along the bottom of Lassen County. This will run from Tuesday, Sept. 21, through Wednesday, Nov. 3, with forked horn bucks or better permitted.

This comes about because, in 1963, the commission set a short season for the territory in these two areas and it was frozen into law. Hunters planning to go into that part of the country will have to take maps, compasses and, if possible, a Philadelphia lawyer if they want to stay on the right side of the law.

DEBATES

In the pre-1963 days, Henry Clineschmidt, commissioner from Redding, usually could be counted on to stir up some debates with his proposals for the District 1¾ areas. Clineschmidt finally got his recommendations accepted in 1963, but the Legislature moved in and took over. According to deer herd counts, there may be enough deer this year to permit a relaxing of the regulations, but this is not possible because of the inflexibility of the law.

Commissioner Thomas H. Richards Jr. of Sacramento will make another try this year at having one hen pheasant per season added to the bag limit in Northern California. The southern season, where birds are all pen raised, has straight either-sex hunting.

One hen per year for northern hunters was permitted about 10 years ago but dropped because of objections from the do-gooders. Richards has tried to reinstate the regulation several times. This year, Richards thinks opposition to the hen-in-the-bag plan may have slacked off enough to permit its adoption. He'll make the recommendation at the April 2 meeting so it may be considered at the final hunting season meeting in Sacramento May 28.

KTIM Banquet Slated May 6

The KTIM Sportsman's Club banquet, honoring the top prep athletes of Marin County, will be held May 6 in Novato, it was announced today by Hugh Turner, station manager.

Dr. Virgil Hollis, superintendent of Marin County schools, will be guest speaker. His talk will be on "Forget the Odds." Other guests will include some of the outstanding athletes of previous years.

Two athletes from each high school will be honored. Selection is made by officials from each of the schools.

$4.5 Million Out Of Pension Fund

NEW YORK (AP) — The Major League Players Pension Fund has paid out almost $4.5 million in pensions, life insurance and health care to baseball players, former players and their families since 1947.

Commissioner Ford Frick said that $33 million had been contributed to the fund, with less than 10 per cent — about $2.9 million—coming from the players. Television revenue from World Series and All-Star games have made up the bulk of contributions.

4 Swimmers Win Firsts

Steve Iverson led the Marin Pirates swimmers at the Del Norte Swim Club meet last weekend when he won both the 50 and 100-yard breaststroke events for boys 11 to 12.

Tacy Dunham won the 50-yard backstroke (11-12), and Scott Warner won the 100 individual medley (9-10). Other point winners for the Pirates were Claudia Warner, Liz Lacotti, Brian Hennessey, Sue Secondo, Jackie Shaw, Laura Gilby and Roger Wader.

Young Lifter Establishes New Record

Frank Holton, a 15-year-old freshman at Sir Francis Drake High School, today has the Pacific Coast teen-age weightlifting press record in the light heavyweight class.

Holton shattered the two-year-old record by 20 pounds when he pressed 255 pounds at the 1965 Northern California AAU teen-age weightlifting championships last weekend.

He had to be satisfied with overall second place in the meet, however, with his total of 710 pounds. Paul Cuellar's total of 750 pounds gave the Berkeley youth the victory and overall Pacific Coast record. Holton's showing indicates he will have a good chance to win a medal in the junior Olympic weightlifting competition, open to boys 12 through 15.

Ed Gerson, Drake junior, and Eddie Maniscalco, Santa Venetia seventh grader, placed first and third respectively in the 123-pound class. Gerson won with a 405 pound total. Jack Gearhart, Drake junior, won second place in the 132-pound division. Steve Dillman, San Rafael High School sophomore, won third place in the 165-pound class.

Net Tourney Next Month

Junior tennis championships will be held April 2 through 17 in Boyle Park by the Mill Valley Junior Chamber of Commerce for boys and girls 13 to 18 years of age. Awards will be given in four divisions.

Entry blanks are being distributed at Mill Valley schools and at the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce office, 85 Throckmorton Avenue, according to Mike Walker, chairman.

Denny McLain, bespectacled Detroit Tiger pitcher, tossed a no-hit game for Harlan, Ky., in his first professional game in 1962.

THE WALLS COME TUMBLING DOWN

At the first blow from the tractor scoop this 65-year-old home at 810 fifth Avenue, San Rafael, slumped over on one side yesterday and the remains were quickly scooped up to make way for a two-story office structure which will house California Land Title Co. and other tenants. The new building, a project of Peterson and Greene, San Rafael, will be constructed of stone and glass window walls, and have 7,000 square feet of floor space. Jim Kean, Independent-Journal photographer who took this picture, was born in the house.

Marin March Slated For Freedom School

San Geronimo Valley teenagers will marchc in a door-to-door "Dollars for Scholars" drive on Saturday so that deprived youngsters in Mississippi can rebuild and restock the Indianola Freedom School destroyed by arsonists on March 5.

About 24 Sir Francis Drake High School students will canvass the valley in an all-teen fund raising effort. The money will go to the San Geronimo Valley Friends of Indianola Freedom School, who are aiming for $1,000 "down payment" by March 31 on the $6,000 needed.

Local drive chairman Kerin Frederick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley R. Frederick of Lagunitas, said, "We'll ask each home for a dollar; but of course we won't put any ceiling on donations."

Kerin, a Drake High School junior, thought of the idea after attending a March 12 meeting when the FIFS was formed. Fellow students Peter Stone and Lisa Rossman of Fairfax are recruiting high school colleagues from east of White's Hill to help the drive to be gastdebetwonfa the drive to be staged between 1 p.m. and 3 p.m.

Subdivision Law Will Be Debated

Representatives of two cities, Marin County and a group of west Marin landowners will debate the county's new small subdivision ordinance on Radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

On the program will be County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, county planner David Van Pelt, Novato Mayor Robert D. Carrow, Sausalito City Mgr. Charles A. Brown and attorney Charles W. Pierce, representing the group of landowners.

Listeners may call in questions during the hour-long broadcast. It will be taped for re-play at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

Forensics Victory For Redwood Girl

Redwood High School achieved a forensics victory in Bay Area competition when senior Valice Harder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harder of Tiburon, was selected as a finalist in the St. Mary's Invitational Forensics Tournament in the East Bay last Saturday.

Miss Harder placed fifth overall for her dramatic interpretation of "The Button" by Robert Newman.

Auto Theft Suspect Gives Police Slip

A 41-year-old San Francisco man, arrested last Thursday as part of an alleged auto theft ring, has temporarily slipped out of the fingers of Marin County probation officers.

Joseph Correnti was released on $2,500 bail before Marin authorities could arrange to have a "hold" put on him as a probation violator.

Correnti is on probation for burglary of about $25,000 worth of jewels, furs and other items from a Belvedere home in June, 1963.

Last week, he was one of four persons picked up on charges they schemed to steal 50 or more cars and sell them outside the state, using false pink ownership slips.

One of the four, Edward Walter DeVany, 26, of 7 Rancho Drive, San Anselmo, was arrested by San Anselmo police. Correnti and the other two were picked up in San Francisco.

The San Francisco district attorney's office said it placed no hold on Correnti because it had received no record of his Marin probation. He was first held in lieu of $5,000 bail, but raised bail after it was reduced to $2,500.

Teachers To Sponsor Public Bridge Party

The Mill Valley Teachers Assn. will sponsor a public contract bridge party at 8 p.m. March 31 to raise money for college scholarships for pupils within the district.

It will be held in the Edna Maguire School annex, according to Janet Spars, chairman.

Billbe told officers somone entered his unlocked front door and took the collection from the living room.

Eighth Graders Top Winner In Contest On Americanism

Eighth grade student Christopher DiMuro of Blessed Sacrament Parochial School was top winner in the annual Americanism essay contest conducted by Wilkins Unit 37, American Legion Auxiliary, San Rafael, it was announced today.

Runners-up were Mary Smith of Davidson School, second, and Barbara Hobbs, also of Blessed Sacrament. The three will compete in the Legion's district finals on Friday, according to Mrs. Gimi J. Sessi, contest chairman for the local post's auxiliary.

Judging the entries on "What I Can Do Today for My Country" were San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis, Dixie School Dist. Supt. Dennie B. Willis, Corte Madera schoolteacher Leo Zaro and San Anselmo business executive Patrick W. Pollock.

Competition was limited to seventh through ninth grades. Individual school winners included:

Davidson School—Mary Smith, Ronda White and Cindy Liddell; Santa Venetia—Stefanie Broome, Susan Little and Steve Boyd; Blessed Sacrament — DiMuro, Babara Hobbs and Janice Grady; St. Raphael's — Cris Coyne, Jean Futscher and Mary Hoffman.

Each winner will receive a medal or certificate from the Legion auxiliary.

'War Requiem' Will Premiere At Cathedral

Benjamin Britten's "War Requiem" will receive its premiere San Francisco performance Sunday at Grace Cathedral.

The massive work is being presented by the Marin Symphony Orchestra in conjunction with the Winifred Baker Chorale and Children's Chorus, and the San Jose State College a cappella Choir directed by William J. Erlendson.

The performance will be under musical direction of Sandor Salgo with Winifred Baker as associate conductor. Featured soloists are soprano Gwen Curatilo, tenor Edward Jameson and baritone Byron Jones.

The Requiem's initial Northern California presentation was given by the Marin Symphony and Winifred Baker Chorale last Dec. 6 in Marin County.

Substandard Lot Report Ordered

Marin County supervisors yesterday, on recommendation of Chairman Peter H. Behr, requested a prompt report from the county planning commission on development of substandard lots.

Behr said such lots become a blight when full-sized houses are permitted on them. He suggested a formula that would permit smaller house size to be in proportion to the size of the lot.

He said this has been called "cottage zoning" in some counties. Such a regulation might well do away with speculation in substandard lots, he suggested.

Bonds. State Loan On Lagunitas Ballot

Lagunitas School District voters are being asked to get the district's classroom building program going again after a five-year lull. On the ballot for the April 20 school election will be a proposal for a $200,000 bond issue and a $300,000 state loan.

Both measures require approval by two-thirds of the voters to pass. This is the district's first attempt on these particular proposals.

Neither the bond issue nor the loan would have any appreciable effect on the district's tax rate in the near future, according to Supt. Marshall McCunniff. The district is levying the maximum allowable bond repayment rate of 40 cents per $100 assessed property valuation, because of bond issues that financed the building program completed in 1960.

The district's voters must approve the bond issue before the district can be eligible for the state loan.

If the proposals are approved, the district plans immediate purchase of two school sites, one in the eastern and one in the western areas of the district. Four classrooms probably would go on the drawing boards immediately; more would be added as the student population in the valley increases, McCunniff said.

The superintendent voiced concern that district voters might be confused by the large number of items on the ballot, which also will ask for decisions on school board candidates and the controversial Tamalpais High School unification issue. "If they vote 'no' on one item they might vote 'no' on all," he fretted.

Monterey was named by Sebastian Vizcaino, in honor of Gaspar de Zuniga, Count of Monterey and Viceroy of Mexico.

Firemen Set Novato Egg Hunt April 17

The Easter egg hunt sponsored by Novato Volunteer Firemen will be held at noon on April 17 at the Patterson Ranch.

Fire Chief George Cavallero said the volunteers have received word from Hoyt Enterprises of Richmond that they may use the ranch. Construction of a shopping center on the site is planned.

This year the hunt will be limited to children seven years and younger, Cavallero announced.

The volunteers had a small turnout at their St. Patrick's Day dance last Saturday night at Our Lady of Loretto parish hall and made only about $1,200, compared to approximately $2,000 last year, the chief reported.

Modoc . . . from a word meaning "Southerners," was used by the Klamath Indians in speaking of a tribe which lived south of them.

STRAWBERRY GELATO is a new version of Italian soft ice cream made with California strawberries and instant nonfat dry milk crystals for an incredibly smooth and delicate texture. The little tree is made with glazed strawberries for an edible decoration.

Have Your Strawberries N' Eat Them Too—The Italian Manner

The strawberry season brings endless delights to the eye and to the appetite. So that you may have your strawberries and eat them too, we use them first . . . frozen . . . beautifully, pinkly, delicately . . . in a new dessert as cool and smooth as Italian silk. Next we employ the gorgeous berries . . . fresh . . . in the making of an Italian topiary tree. Glazed with currant jelly and chilled, the strawberries become an enchanting edible centerpiece . . . to be nibbled off their little tree at will.

THE RECIPE is Strawberry Gelato . . . adapted from the soft ice cream sold in the streets of Italy during the burning Mediterranean summer. Made with instant nonfat dry milk crystals and whole milk, the Gelato is simple and inexpensive to prepare and packs substantial nourishment. The instant crystals actually fortify the milk to which they are added, providing double the proteins, B vitamins, phosphorus and calcium. Another admirable feature of this new Gelato is, of course, that it is considerably lower in calories than ordinary ice cream.

STRAWBERRY GELATO
(Makes 8 to 12 servings)

2 envelopes unflavored gelatine
½ cup cold water
2 cups instant nonfat dry milk crystals
1 quart whole milk
1½ cups sugar
2 packages (10 slices each) frozen sliced California strawberries, thawed
Fed drops red food coloring (optional)

Sprinkle gelatine over water to soften. Stir in instant crystals into whole milk; blend in softened gelatine and sugar. Stir over low heat until gelatine dissolves. Cool.

Meanwhile, blend strawberries in electric blender or force through food mill. Sieve the strawberry puree, then stir into gelatine mixture along with food coloring. Turn into refrigerator trays and freeze until firm, then beat until smooth. Serve with additional strawberries, if desired.

ITALIAN STRAWBERRY TREE

You will need six items to make this topiary tree . . . a small flower pot or other container, a wooden dowel or spike, a styrofoam sphere, ribbon, colored foil and lots of fresh California strawberries.

Start with a container that is about 4 inches in diameter. Use a wood receptacle or spray a clay pot gold, red or what you will with aerosol paint (available in hardware and variety stores). When dry, fill with pebbles, marbles, putty or any substance that will hold a dowel in place. Insert a dowel, wooden peg or stick . . . about 8 inches high and no more than 1 inch in diameter . . . into container and wrap, if you wish, with matching ribbon. (We have left both container and dowel plain.) Now cut a piece of styrofoam or oasis (available at florists and variety stores . . . often already cut into shapes) into a 6-inch sphere. Cover completely with plain or colored foil. Using wooden toothpicks broken in half, attach strawberries to the sphere. You will require about 4 pints of berries and can use any left over to garnish the Gelato. Keep chilled. Shortly before serving, brush strawberries lightly with a hot glaze made by bringing ½ cup currant jelly and 2 tablespoons water to a boil. Chill again until needed. The glaze gives the strawberries added flavor and shine.

Make A Date With A Cake Using Dates

Fruits, nuts and brown sugar go into this cake baked in a large rectangular pan. It's wonderful dessert insurance for a busy week-end.

It's tempting just as it is when it comes from the oven, but it may be frosted with butter cream icing or a dollop of whipped cream. Make it with lard, if you want it to be light and tender.

DATE LOAF

2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
¼ teaspoon salt
¾ cup lard
1 cup brown sugar
2 eggs, beaten
½ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 pound pitted dates, chopped
½ cup chopped walnuts

Line a 12x9-inch baking pan with waxed paper. Sift together flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Cream lard and sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs. Add milk with vanilla to creamed mixture. Add chopped dates and nuts to flour mixture. Add flour mixture to creamed mixture and mix well. Pour into baking pan. Bake in moderate over (350° F.) 45 to 50 minutes or until done.

APPETIZING

Variety Meat Creole Style Can Be Served As Entree

If you've eaten pepperpot soup, you've probably tasted tripe without even knowing it. Tripe, a variety of meat, can also be served as an entree by itself.

It may be purchased fresh, pickled or canned. Though fresh tripe is cooked partially before selling, it must still be cooked about two hours preliminary to serving preparation. Use a teaspoon of salt for each quart of water in which the tripe is cooked.

Well-seasoned tomato sauce is a favorite accompaniment of tripe after it's been cooked. It's especially appetizing in this combination served on rice.

TRIPE A LA CREOLE

Water
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons chopped green pepper
3 tablespoons chopped onion
3 tablespoons flour
1½ cups canned tomatoes
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

Cover tripe with water and cook slowly 2 hours or until cut surface has a clear, jelly-like appearance. Drain and cut into 2-inch pieces. Melt butter or margarine. Add green pepper and onion and cook until tender. Add flour, stirring until smooth. Add tomatoes, stirring constantly, until thickened. Season and add tripe. Simmer 10 minutes. 6 servings.

Pizza Pointers

When using pork sausage (bulk) as a pizza topping, brown the sausage in the frying-pan first, then pour off the drippings before spreading on the spicy tomato sauce mixture which covers the dough for the base.

Other good choices for a pizza topping include cervelat or pepperoni, sliced very thinly atop the pungent tomato sauce.

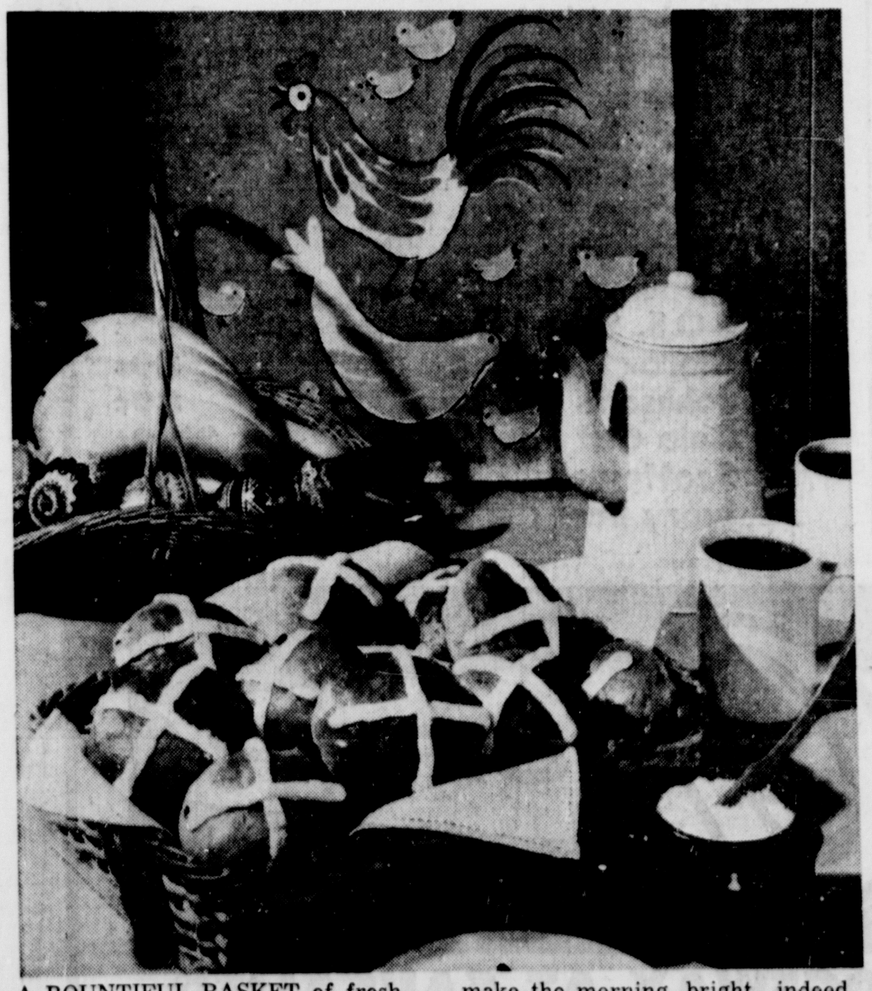

Another good variation for a pizza topping uses sliced smoked sausage links. Combine it with sliced mushrooms as a variation.

Distinctive Glaze For Fruited Buns

Fruited buns, warm and wonderful, with a distinctive sugary glaze. . . in olden times, just one day a year was reserved for these sweet baked delights, and one had to corral a versifying English street vendor, or visit a fashionable London bakery, to exchange " pennies" for the rare treats.

NOWADAYS, hot cross buns are enjoyed throughout the Lenten season. But for a very special morning, say Easter, after the fun and games of the traditional egg hunt, a bountiful basket of fresh-from-the-oven Banana Hot Cross Buns, with a happy new flavor, makes the morning bright indeed.

It's a fact that bananas added to baked goods give them better keeping qualities. Chances are that these Banana Hot Cross Buns will never be put to the test, they'll disappear that fast!

A BOUNTIFUL BASKET of fresh-from-the-oven Banana Hot Cross Buns, with a happy new flavor, will make the morning bright, indeed. The first bite will prove a surprise, with the subtle taste of bananas in both bun and glaze.

BANANA HOT CROSS BUNS

1 package active dry yeast
¼ cup warm water
1 cup mashed ripe bananas
¼ cup lukewarm milk
2 tablespoons sugar
1½ teaspoons salt
1 egg, slightly beaten
2 tablespoons soft butter
4 to 4½ cups sifted all purpose flour
⅔ cup raisins
Banana Glaze (recipe below)

In large mixing bowl, dissolve yeast in water. Stir in mashed bananas, milk, sugar and salt. Add egg, butter and half of flour; beat until smooth. Add raisins and rest of flour, using enough to form dough that will not cling to bowl. Turn out on lightly floured board. Knead until smooth (about 5 minutes), adding enough flour to prevent sticking. Cover with a damp cloth and set in a warm (85°F.) place to rise until double in bulk (1 hour). Punch down and form into 12 balls, tucking edges under to form smooth tops. Place balls 2-inches apart on ungreased cookie sheet. Allow to rise (30 to 40 minutes). Heat oven to 425°F. (hot). Bake for 20 minutes. While buns are still warm, drizzle Banana Glaze over tops in shape of cross. Serve warm. Makes 1 dozen buns.

BANANA GLAZE

⅓ cup mashed ripe bananas
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 pound sifted confectioners' sugar

Combine all ingredients. Mix until smooth and well blended. Makes 2 cups.

Cruises And Trip To Desert Find Marinites On The Move

By MOLLY MARIN

A two weeks' cruise on the "Oronsay" from Honolulu to Sydney, Australia, stopping at Fiji, was the highlight of a trip for the Eric C. Johnsons who returned Saturday to Mill Valley. They started their trip Feb. 19 by taking the plane to Honolulu. From Sydney they continued by plane to Manila, Hong Kong and Japan.

Mrs. Johnson found Sydney the most impressive place. She said it reminded her of San Francisco, the way it must have been 40 years ago—"full of both old world charm and new ideas with lots of vim and vigor.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE GODDARD of the Belvedere Lagoon, have returned home after spending three weeks aboard the freighter "Hawaiian Packer." They visited three Islands in the Hawaiian group, Maui, Hawaii and Oahu, staying on Oahu for four days. They were the only passengers aboard the ship for the trip.

OTHER TRAVELERS were the Mert Hipsleys of Ross, who have been enjoying a sojourn at Rancho de los Caballeros in Arizona near Wickenburg. Bea and Mert flew to the ranch in their own plane and they have been enjoying the golfing and horseback riding on the desert.

MARIN ARCHITECTS and their wives who will be hosts and hostesses at the house tour of the Northern California Chapter of the Women's Architectural League April 4 in Hillsborough and Burlingame will be Mr. and Mrs. Joe D. Allen and Mr. and Mrs. Matt Copenhaven of Mill Valley, Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. English of Tiburon, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Miller of Fairfax, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Chambers of San Rafael and Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Fairfax of San Anselmo.

THE MERT HIPSLEYS of Ross have been vacationing near Wickenburg, Ariz., arriving in their own plane for their stay in the desert country.

Carole Reynolds Bride In Larkspur Church Ceremony

The Redwoods Presbyterian Church in Larkspur was the setting for the wedding of Carole Ellen Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ulric H. Reynolds of Novato, and Salvatore Barruso of San Rafael at 2 p.m. Saturday.

The Rev. Frank Hamilton officiated at the ceremony in which the bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a full length gown of white satin trimmed in lace.

Mrs. Craig Mahony of Novato was her sister's matron of honor in a street length dress of aqua peau de soie. Similarly dressed as bridesmaids were Linna Morgan of Chula Vista, cousin of the bride, Kathleen Banfield of San Anselmo, Linda Offenbach of Larkspur and Laura Stitch of San Francisco.

Stephen Swigard of Kentfield acted as best man with Michael LaTorre of San Francisco, Ulric Reynolds III, brother of the bride, and Craig Mahony of Novato and Bruce Corbet of Kentfield.

Both bride and bridegroom were graduated from Redwood High School and attended College of Marin. Carole is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carey O. Morgan of Point Reyes Station.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Alfred Newman and Anthony Barruso, both of Terra Linda, and the brother of Monique Barruso and Melinda Newman, both of Terra Linda. Mr. and Mrs. Antone Scafani of San Francisco are his grandparents.

The new couple will make their home in San Rafael.

Area Coffees Scheduled By Marin Branch Sections

The last meetings of the series of area coffees have been scheduled by chairman Mrs. Roger F. Griffin for Marin Branch, American Assn. of University Women. Since there are 16 study sections, six bridge groups, and close to 400 members, it is quite possible to be an active member and still not be acquainted with neighbors who are also members of the same organization.

Recognizing a need for neighborhood get-togethers last year, Mrs. Robert L. Flanders organized a similar series of social hours, which proved popular.

Mrs. R. J. Houston, president, will speak briefly at each gathering, to describe the organization and its activities.

On March 31 at 10 a.m., Mrs. Glen C. Legoe will be hostess to the Larkspur-Kentfield AAUW members in her home, assisted by Mrs. W. R. Ivarson. On April 30 at 10 a.m., the home of Mrs. W. M. Schau in Sleepy Hollow will be the gathering place for the Fairfax-San Anselmo area. And the final date is May 26 at 10 a.m., when the Ross and Greenbrae group will gather.

Lynwood School Father, Sons Meet Tomorrow

Abe Woodson, formerly with the San Francisco 49ers and now with the St. Louis Cardinals will be special guest at the Lynwood School father and son evening in Novato at 7 p.m. tomorrow.

Judo, tumbling and music will also be featured on the program, John Johnston, chairman for the evening, said. Kermit Anderson is refreshment chairman and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Kelly and Andy Lamore are in charge of decorations.

The program will feature Lynwood School students from the Northern California Judo School; tumbling exhibitions, led by Lynwood School special services teacher, Roy Damas; piano selections by sixth grade student Jim Rowe and a flute duet by Wayne Colyre and Stephen Halbe.

Dan Richard will be master of ceremonies during the evening.

Judge Brusatori Deserves Rest But Will Be Missed

We greet the coming resignation of Superior Court Judge N. Charles Brusatori with mixed emotions.

Along with thousands who have appeared before him as plaintiffs, defendants, jurors or spectators, we shall miss him in the county courthouse, where he has been on the bench for 21 years.

On the other hand, we join the host of his well-wishers who are happy to see the judge render the big personal decision—to get some well-deserved rest.

Making decisions that affect the very existence of his fellow men is no easy task. And to a man for whom no decision is "routine," it becomes an even greater task.

To Judge Brusatori, there was no such thing as a "small case." He often expressed his conviction that "every case is important."

With that in mind, Judge Brusatori gave the same meticulous and conscientious attention to each case and each decision, whether it was a small claims matter or a murder trial.

Because the lowest courts are the ones with which most people have direct contact, he believes the lowest courts should set shining examples for courts in general.

Judge Brusatori set such an example, administering justice and rendering decisions, tempered with human compassion.

After each long day of formal proceedings in the courthouse, Judge Brusatori would often "take" cases home with him to ponder and weigh.

Day and night, he has spent almost a lifetime, deeply and sincerely concerned with the plight of his fellow man.

But he was never so preoccupied with his own burdens that he did not have time to bring cheer and brighten the day for others.

In the midst of bitter legal wrangling or after a long day in court when nerves were on edge, bits of humor would flow from behind that stern countenance of his to ease a tense situation or to relax a witness or the jurors.

Judge Brusatori has served his fellow man well.

Although we shall miss him in the courthouse, we cannot begrudge him the long-needed leisure he so deserves.

Judge Brusatori's retirement will go into effect on June 1. We hope that an appropriate testimonial will be prepared for him between now and then, to provide his admirers with the opportunity to express their gratitude for a job well done.

We look forward to many more years of happy acquaintance with him, and may turn to him for an occasional decision or advice in the future.

A SIGN OF COMMUNITY INTEREST?

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Unification Plan Given Backing

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I, too, along with Mrs. Nightingale, am very concerned about the education of the individual Marin student. That is why I am in favor of a unified district that could provide the wide variety of classes and services to all Marin students that are needed for a fine education.

I would like to avoid any comparison of size being made between the University of California and the projected Tamalpais unified schools. The "bigness" and "loss of identity" often mentioned in connection with the university result in part from having several hundred students in a lecture class, most of whom never talk to their professor. In the Tamalpais district, classes would probably be smaller if any changes at all were made. (The high school district recently lowered its student-teacher ratio.) The largeness would be in terms of one budget, central purchasing and record keeping, which should free more dollars for an even finer education.

Let's Think Big On Unification

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It is regrettable to see responsible citizens support a cause in the manner indicated by the recent ad (I-J, March 11) for Citizens Against Forced Unification. The very name of this group is really an insult to the majority of the people in the area concerned....

The majority of those present at both the Redwood and Tamalpais High hearings obviously favored one unified district....

If our totally unified district does not result in a superior educational system, in better communication between the schools and parents and in tax dollars spent for value received, the cause will lie with us as parents who find it easier to oppose a needed advance which changes our comfortable little systems than to be seen and heard when the time comes to make the new system work. I, for one, have no fear that this area can't educate all our children on a level with the best and elect a board which will at the same time insist on business-like, economical operations.

We can either think small and be content in our isolation, not too concerned with the needs in the rest of our community, or we can think big, with confidence in the integrity of our officials and with the satisfaction which comes from mutual help and understanding.

Give Negroes Their Rights

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Is this America? "The land of the free and the home of the brave." Yes, there are many who are brave enough to struggle for their freedom—freedom that they were supposedly granted 100 years ago.

What is the Constitution? It is a written document, part of which at this time has little meaning. We can fight in Viet Nam to keep "freedom and democracy" in the world. What kind of freedom and democracy? Freedom like ours? Is that freedom?

Let's get that written document enforced, by giving the inalienable rights and opportunities of it to the so-called Negro citizens of the South, before we try to spread our own so-called freedom to the rest of the world.

Police Given Pat On Back

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I join Mr. Marinko in his appreciation of the brave, courageous men of the police.

Far from needing criticism they are entitled to our admiration and gratefulness especially in these troubled times.

These heroic men are there every day risking their lives to protect us. They are our best friends and without them what would we be?

Thanks to them. God bless them.

What Is Graham Doing In Hawaii?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I have been wondering this last week or so where the "fair-haired boy" of the Evangelists was. However, I notice from an item in your issue of March 16 that he is in Hawaii. Billy Graham, I mean. No less. Who else? Isn't it fortunate, for him, that he happens to be in Hawaii?

To quote from the article mentioned above, he "urged an end to racial demonstrations."

What an oversight! If he had only said this to Reverend King, in Selma, Alabama, it might have made all the difference between bull-whips, tear gas, and death! But, of course, even Billy Graham couldn't talk that loud. Yell from Hawaii to Alabama? Never. There is only one kind of billy that has been heard and felt, emotionally and physically, around the world lately and that's a billy CLUB!

Urge Clausen To Vote Yes

Editor, Independent-Journal:

There is now an opportunity for the residents of the First Congressional District to request that their congressman, Donald Clausen, refrain from obstructionist techniques in civil rights legislation....

The present civil rights legislation now being prepared for presentation to the legislators deserves the "Yea" vote of every legislator. Attempts to delay by Mr. Clausen would only add to the shame of the residents of the First Congressional District brought upon them by Mr. Clausen's previous tactic of obstructionism to civil rights legislation; his refusal to oppose the seating of the illegally elected Mississippi representatives; and his vote against the change in committee rules, changes which were designed to permit a quicker vote on legislation.

I call upon all the residents of the First Congressional District to write, wire, or phone Mr. Clausen and request that he give us the direct, positive action on the present civil rights legislation we desire and not to join the Southern congressmen again in attempting delay. A delay, as President Johnson has said, we can no longer in good conscience permit.

With A Wild Gleam In Her Eye

Spring is synonymous with housecleaning. Women go utterly mad with broom, mop and dust cloth. With a wild gleam in their eyes, they attack dirt with the hepped-up zeal of combat Marines establishing a beachhead.

Men take a more realistic attitude toward dirt, we think. They realize that dirt is impossible to abolish. It grows in the streets, in gardens and outside our doors. A considerable portion of the world's population have dirt floors. What the ladies try to do is relocate all dirt outside the house. This is against Nature. With so much dirt outside, it is absolutely impossible to keep the inside dirt-free. Any reasonable person would compromise with dirt.

Of course, we like a clean house too. But we sometimes wonder whether it is worth all that bother!

Tomato Farmer Lauds Murphy For Stand On Bracero Issue

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — A letter to U.S. Sen. George Murphy from Hiroshi Nishikawa, director of the California Tomato Growers Assn., sent from Dixon, Solano County, reflects some of the concern farmers have for the way they have been "sold down the river" by government officials on the matter of securing Mexican labor to harvest this year's crops.

Nishikawa appreciates what Senator Murphy has attempted to do for the California farmer, and commends him for keeping his campaign promises, as the farmers stand close to disaster. He says:

"WE ARE PROUD farmers and do not cry for help unless our situation is desperate and almost hopeless. I am sure that, after hearing arguments of the opposition, you must wonder if your stand on the bracero issue is morally correct—sometimes we farmers even wonder. However, in this letter I want to assure you that you are perfectly right, morally or otherwise.

"I was once a 70-cents-an-hours farm worker and I know and understand their problems, but spokesmen for the church groups, union organizers and the general public are so misinformed about the whole farm labor picture that they are ridiculous.

"I want to base our righteousness on the bracero issue on the following points:

"Braceros are not semi-slaves. They come here of their own free will.

"Farmers do not exploit farm workers. We have always followed rigid compliance of the laws.

"We are not against higher wages for farm workers, providing the worker is capable of earning his own way.

"The braceros do not take away jobs from citizens. They create jobs for citizens, for they are the prime producers who recover the wealth from the soil through their hard work.

"Domestic recruitment will not produce workers capable of doing the job. If they are capable and available I would like to know where they were the last 15 years since I got into farming.

"YOU ARE RIGHT and never fear you are wrong. Many times, I have contemplated quitting farming because of such unfavorable laws and interpretation against us. However, having a courageous and honest man in the United States Senate has given me the strength to keep going as I have for the last 15 years."

This letter represents not only the writer, but many more California farmers, who are being deprived of workers through efforts of the labor unions and the state and federal governments.

THE REALIZATION of how the consuming public is to be deprived of reasonably-priced products will come only after the curtailment of crops has been noted because of the lack of labor, and the prices start going up in the grocery stores.

THE CYNIC'S CORNER — By Interlandi

"I want to be known as the President who . . ."

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A BRAVE AND brainy lady was Mrs. Robert Taft, wife of the late Ohio senator. Once she dared declare to a big conclave of labor leaders, "Yes, my husband is a conservative. But there is nothing common or average about him. He was first in his class at the Harvard Law School, and if he weren't a very exceptional man, I never would have the nerve to urge a labor convention to vote for him as your representative in Washington." The audience stood up and cheered!

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Viet Nam, Civil Rights, U.S. Gold Outflow Rule Johnson's Thoughts

WASHINGTON—Three overriding concerns preoccupy President Lyndon B. Johnson.

MORNING, afternoon, night time, seven days a week without let-up, they command 85 per cent of his time, thought—and anxiety.

The first reports at his earliest bedside conference in the morning and the last at night, with rare exceptions, deal with one or more of these dominating problems:

The defense of South Viet Nam, defense of equal rights in the U.S., or the defense of the dollar abroad against the adverse balance of payments.

They are the most pressing unresolved matters before the nation. The president can't leave them to others—even if he wanted to. He doesn't want to.

Any appraisal of the state of the Union since Lyndon Johnson became president in his own right has to cover where we stand in the battle for Viet Nam, in the battle for civil rights, and in the battle to defend the dollar:

VIET NAM—After a period of indecision about what to do in Viet Nam, President Johnson has made his decision and set a course for the United States on which he knows there is no turning back. The president has decided that the U.S. must do whatever is necessary to defend South Viet Nam successfully against the Communist aggression. He has decided that this is not only vital to the independence of 14 million South Vietnamese, but to Southeast Asia and to the United States.

Mr. Johnson holds unalterably to the conviction that, since these goals are vital, they can be achieved.

The president rejects the counsel of wishful thinking which says, on the one hand, that we must defend Southeast Asia somewhere, but argues, on the other, that we must give up defending Southeast Asia at the point where it is being attacked—in South Viet Nam—because that is too difficult.

The end of the road in Viet Nam is obviously not in sight. But the course and policy and purpose are fixed—with no intention of turning back. The purpose is not unconditional surrender by Hanoi at all. We are not seeking to unseat the Communist regime in Hanoi at all. We are not asking Hanoi to surrender anything—except its aggression against its neighbor. And we are not going to promise in advance to reward the aggressor with economic aid.

CIVIL RIGHTS—Who wrote the president's moving address to Congress last week? He did.

His goal is not just more law and more compulsion. His goal is the nation's wholehearted acceptance of equal rights because it is morally right, just, decent, fair—and inevitable. He is prepared to expend all his hard-earned prestige as presidential leader to achieve this goal.

DEFENDING THE DOLLAR—The administration is making real headway in bringing the adverse balance of payments under control. The outflow of dollars from the U.S. is at last starting to come to an end.

World's Fair Opens Gate To Immigrants

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — "Visit the World's Fair!"

That's the magic password being used to avoid red tape in migrating from Latin America to the U.S.

Like "the man who came to dinner," thousands of Latin Americans are doing just that. Coming to New York as World's Fair tourists, they are staying on and settling in the large cities.

THIS EXODUS is giving U.S. immigration officials one of their biggest security headaches, particularly as Cuban dictator Fidel Castro has been routing some of his own agents to the fair and the U.S. via Latin American nations.

These are the confidential findings immigration authorities from New York and other areas have turned over to the House Immigration Subcommittee, headed by Rep. Michael Feighan, D-Ohio.

The officials, who asked that their names not be revealed, reported that under the Johnson administration's "good neighbor" immigration policy, more than 90 per cent of these "World's Fair visitors" are being allowed to remain.

They pointed out that the Latin Americans obtain "visitor's" permits, fly to New York, spend a few days at the fair, and then start looking for a place to settle down.

ONCE THEY HAVE found a job, they petition the Immigration Service for a change in status from "visitor" to "permanent."

According to immigration authorities, "It is the official policy of the administration" to let all these "visitors" stay unless they have criminal or subversive records.

The present immigration law does not set a quota on the number of persons entering the U.S. from other Western Hemisphere countries.

One feeble effort to stop this traffic has failed.

Visa officers in U.S. embassies in Latin America were instructed to require all World's Fair "tourists" to show round-trip tickets. This hasn't affected the flow of Latin "visitors," as most of them have discovered they can easily cash in their return trip tickets.

A SURVEY in New York reveals that Puerto Ricans no longer comprise the majority of Spanish-speaking residents of New York. The recent upsurge of Latin American immigrants has raised their total in New York to 724,375, as compared to 720,000 from Puerto Rico, which, of course, has no U.S. immigration restrictions.

In the last 18 months 250,000 Latin Americans have emigrated to New York. More than 10,000 entered on visitor's permits and stayed on. Others left their homelands because of unsettled political and economic conditions.

According to the study, Cubans form the largest non-Puerto Rican Spanish-speaking group in New York, totaling 300,000. Most of them are anti-Castroites who fled to the U.S. when the Communists took over the island. Immigrants from the Dominican Republic, numbering 100,000, were listed as the next largest group.

With the World's Fair scheduled to reopen in April, immigration authorities are alerting their inspectors to be prepared to handle a still larger traffic from Latin America.

Members of the Feighan subcommittee are studying means of curbing this round-about method of immigrating to the U.S. They also plan to place an over-all ceiling, probably 300,000, on the number who can enter the U.S. each year.

Although the latter limitation would apply to all foreign nations, its effect would be to hold Latin American immigration to approximately its present level. At present, there is no over-all ceiling on immigrants. An estimated 300,000 persons annually have been permitted to enter the U.S. during the past 10 years.

The Country Parson

"There are so many different interpretations of the Scripture that even an atheist is likely to find one he can support."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

At-Large Appointments View, And A Trip To Rocket Firing Center

NO DOUBT, our county supervisors are being perfectly high-minded in trying out the idea of "at large" appointments to various county commissions, dropping the old custom of representing each district.

In theory, the "at large" policy could be a strong unifier of the whole county, if all the appointees remember they serve all the citizens of Marin first and home neighborhood interests second, if at all.

Some, suspicious courthouse sages, though, are pointing at the "at large" idea's beautiful possibilities for a "machine" that might become a provincial wonder.

Less cynical, but still worried, are quite a few folks who live in North Marin, or remoter, less populated areas. They think natural pressures may favor too many appointments of citizens who live in the heavily built-up areas from San Rafael south.

"DENSIFIED AREAS" they call them in a pro-district petition being circulated. Our first mental image of this label was a mob of thick-skulled moronic types jostling shoulder to shoulder from San Pablo Bay to Mount Tam, from Lucas Valley to the Golden Gate. But, we all know what they mean.

We, personally, wonder whether the "at large" idea might not set geographic areas of Marin against each other for worse than the old system. In Solano and Contra Costa counties there are mental "Berlin Walls" that separate Vallejo interests from all the "up country," and Richmond-San Pablo-El Cerrito from everything "east of the hills."

LAST WEEK in the bright moonlight, we wandered bigeyed through some hills that reminded us mighty much of Marin's own Golden Gate Headlands, proposed site of the controversial Marincello.

We were on a red-carpet tour of the United Technology Center's rocket plant and test site, in the valleys of a 5,200-acre parcel of the Diablo Hills, nestling up to Mount Hamilton southeast of San Jose.

What if some spage age industry wanted to use all that open land west of Sausalito for something like we were inspecting, we wondered. We shudder to think of the reaction. Yet, the Santa Clara County rocketmen don't seem to be such bad neighbors.

We were told that area residents squawked louder than the rockets' blast because of four tests conducted there — when the 10-story-high, million-pound-thrust Titan 3-C rockets were tested, sending a puff of smoke miles high and one time lighting up the countryside at dusk.

But there has never been a dangerous explosion, and some 7,000 to 8,000 rocket motors have been test-fired without the neighbors even knowing it.

The rockets don't go anyplace. They're anchored to solid steel and concrete, usually nose-down, so their flames shoot skyward.

ANY DAY NOW, you'll be reading about another of the Titan tests there—and a few weeks later, one of the gigantic "birds" is supposed to jump off the pad at Cape Kennedy with a 5,000-degree flame at its tail.

We all listened with mounting tension as we stood where they mix the strange goo that powers the solid-fuel Titan boosters. Chemical engineer Roberts described how everybody retreats to a safe distance and watches by remote control television during a few critical minutes of mixing. Someone asked about the design of the huge mixer that churns 1,500-pound bowls of the chemicals.

Roberts grinned, blinked owlishly.

"They're modified commercial bakery equipment. Dough mixers were the best we could find. And, we've made improvements that have helped the bread industry."

ART BUCHWALD

Typical All-American Father, Son Tangle Over Russian Progress

WASHINGTON — The first thought that occurred to me when I read about the Russians' latest space feat was that the American educational system had failed us again.

That night I went into my 11-year-old son's room and said, "You better do your homework and I don't want any mistakes."

"What are you so mad at?" he asked.

"I'LL TELL YOU what I'm mad at. The Russians just put two men into space and one of them took a walk around outside the capsule."

"What's that got to do with me?"

"I'll tell you what it has to do with you. The Russians are ahead of us in space and it's all because you American kids aren't working hard enough at your studies."

"Gee whiz," he said, "every time the Russians put up a space ship everyone starts yelling at us. We've got more arithmetic than we can handle as it is."

"And what do you think Ivan is saying right now?"

"Who's Ivan?"

"Ivan is your counterpart in the Soviet Union. Ivan is studying night and day to get a man to the moon, and all you are thinking about is baseball and the Boy Scouts and chewing gum cards. I wouldn't be surprised if Ivan was laughing this very minute."

"If he has more homework than I have, I don't see what he's got to laugh about."

"THAT'S THE typical American boy's reply. But let me tell you something. It's no laughing matter when a Russian cosmonaut goes up 307 miles and gets out of his capsule and floats around for 10 minutes."

"Chuck said they didn't do it. He said the Russians can't even build a good washing machine."

"Oh yeah? Well, Chuck doesn't know much, because these photographs show he did do it."

"Chuck says all the photographs are blurred. He says the Russians even make lousy camera equipment."

"And what does Chuck say about the fact that the cosmonaut got out of his capsule and floated around?"

"He said it was probably a faulty door and the guy fell out by mistake. But Chris doesn't think so."

"What does Chris think?"

"HE THINKS someone forgot to put the latch on the door and so it swung out and one of the cosmonauts who doesn't like the commie system decided it was a good chance to escape while they were flying over the United States. He says all the guy was trying to do was get away."

"Well, Chuck and Chris are both wrong," I said. "We're not going to be able to pull that stunt until 1966 and do you know why? Because you and Chuck and Chris don't know enough math."

"Holy cow," he said. "Why does it always have to be us when the Russians do something first?"

"Because we've been too easy on you. That's why.

"But all that's going to change now. We're not going to be degraded and laughed at throughout the world because you can't handle calculus in the fifth grade."

"Okay, I'll try harder," he said. "Now can I watch television?"

"THAT'S WHAT I mean!" I shouted. "Do you think Ivan is watching television at this moment?"

"Nope, but Chuck says they have lousy shows in Russia and there's nothing to see anyway."

10 YEARS AGO

Late frosts slowed the growth of pasture grass in Marin and farmers' hay supplies were running short, County Supervisor William Gnoss of Novato reported.

Hub, Fairfax Park Urged

Ernest N. Kettenhofen yesterday told fellow members of the Marin County Board of Supervisors that he is trying to encourage Fairfax and San Anselmo to acquire the Marin Town and Country Club property for a park.

The park would be used jointly by both cities, he suggested. He thinks it should be done "before it is too late."

Kettenhofen asked for some aid from the county parks and recreation department in handling the mechanics of the proposal.

Don't Pin Partner Down When He Makes A Mistake

"What should I do about my husband?" asks an irate reader.

"He always has an excuse for his mistakes, and I can never get him to admit that he has pulled a boner, pure and simple. Here's a hand we had last night:

"My husband was playing the hand at four spades, and I got up from the table to watch the first two tricks. Then I went into the kitchen and slammed the coffee cups around for a minute or two.

SINGLETON HEART

"Our neighbor opened the singleton heart, and his wife took the ace and returned the jack of hearts. My lord and master put the king on this trick, and our neighbor ruffed.

"I didn't watch the rest because there was no hope. When I came back with the coffee, my husband was scoring 100 points for the opponents.

"I told my husband that he should play a low heart instead of the king at the second trick. Then he couldn't lose more than three heart tricks.

HAS EXCUSE

"My husband said he thought the opening lead was from Q-9-2. If so, he would be quite safe in playing his king on the jack.

"If he failed to take the trick, our neighbor would be able to overtake with the queen and return the suit to let his wife ruff. This would cost him a trick.

"Can you point out what is wrong with this excuse? I give up."

WOULDN'T DREAM

I wouldn't dream of pointing out that the only correct play at the second trick is a low heart. If the opening lead is a singleton, this saves the contract. Even if the lead is from Q-9-2, South loses only three tricks and then makes the rest.

But how can I say such a thing to a fellow husband? A wife who plays well enough to catch these errors instantly should be satisfied to slam the coffee cups around.

She should not insist on making her husband admit his mistakes.

DAILY QUESTION

Dealer opens with one spade, and your partner doubles.

The next player passes, and you hold:

♠ 8
♥ A Q J 9

♦ J 9 8 5
♣ Q 10 7 2

What do you say?

Answer: Bid three hearts.

This jump response invites a game but is not forcing. If partner has made a very "light" takeout double, you are willing to stop short of game. (If he has doubled one spade without good heart support, you should get yourself another partner.)

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, March 24, the 83rd day of 1965 with 282 to follow.

The moon is in its last quarter. The morning star is Mars. The evening stars are Mars, Mercury and Jupiter.

Andrew Mellon, the financier who was secretary of the Treasury under Presidents Warren G. Harding, Calvin Coolidge and Herbert Hoover was born on this day in 1855.

On this day in history:

In 1902, one of the earliest "Advice to the Lovelorn" columns appeared.

In 1949, Walter Huston and his son John became the first father-and-son team to receive "Oscars." Walter Huston was selected best supporting actor in "The Treasure of Sierra Madre" and his son best director.

In 1953, Dowager Queen Mary died in London at the age of 86.

When a Family Buys A Home in Central Marin . . . Where Do They Come From?

Latest Research* shows that 69.7% of home buyers in Central Marin are ALREADY LIVING in the County.

This is a ratio of MORE THAN 3½ to 1 than from San Francisco.

BUYER ORIGIN	%
Marin County	69.7
San Francisco	19.6

- The Prime Market then, for home sales, is Marin itself . . . and the I-J Classified "gets home" to the people who buy the MOST HOMES in Marin . . . Marin families themselves because the I-J covers 2 out of 3 homes in the County.
- The I-J daily circulation in Marin County is GREATER than that of the San Francisco Chronicle and the Examiner COMBINED!!
- NO WASTE — NO HIGH-PRICED SPACE GOING TO NON-PRODUCTIVE AREAS.

Cancer Crusade Volunteers Sought

Volunteers are being sought to aid Marin's April Cancer Crusade, according to Jordan L. Martinelli Jr. of Ross, crusade chairman.

Needed most, he said, are persons to make personal telephone calls promoting the drive. Typists, kit assemblers and chauffeurs for cancer patients also are needed.

Would be volunteers may call the American Cancer Society's Marin office in San Rafael.

On the basis of Bureau of the Census estimates made in July, 1963, there are approximately two-and-a-half million more females than males in the U.S.

Two Get Grants At Hub Seminary

Two San Francisco Theological Seminary students will have good news waiting for them when they and 41 others from the San Anselmo school return from the civil rights march now going on in Alabama.

Second year students Thomas A. Towle and Anthony O. Nugent were among 16 American seminary students chosen for Danforth Seminary Intern grants.

The interns will spend the 1965-66 year on another college campus to learn whether they wish to be campus ministers once they are ordained.

Interlibrary loan of books was a common medieval practice.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Danger Present In Gemini Shot

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Life imitated art yesterday as millions of televiewers saw two men hurtle away in a spaceship and then watched the President of the United States telephone them on their return.

The occasion, of course, was the wonderfully successful Project Gemini flight, the nation's first two-man orbital journey. And the moment of overwhelmingly tense life-and-death reality that grasped the viewer was, again, the moment of launching. After the launch, it was overwhelming in another sense to observe the blase, taken - for - granted confidence and detachment of viewers toward the flight.

Mother Goose has seen her biggest days. James Bond is only a tiny start in the other direction. Can you honestly still tell a child that truth is stranger than fiction? It is no longer the truth that takes getting used to; we have seen it all before in fantastic fiction, perhaps in a movie or television show. Truth is merely confirming what, in our blase fashion we know is possible. It is not the blase truths, but the fiction, we must adjust to.

It is dangerously impersonal in a way. In its function as an impartial carrier of both fact and fiction, television has insulated so many viewers against the full impact of reality—for video offers a steady stream of experience of all sorts — that such matters as danger become almost remote. Except for the launch and recovery yesterday it is almost certain that few thought of the steady fact of danger.

We hardly see anything but happy endings on the television screen. Even when President Kennedy was assassinated, we did not see the killing at the moment it actually happened. It was a second-hand experience. We saw the shooting of Lee Oswald, but by then he was an alleged bad guy, and as one network executive remarked at the time, there was such strong feeling about him—and such insulation against seeing bad guys shot on television shows—that the event might well have seemed to many youngsters like something not far from a normal video occasion.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Sen Everett Dirksen will be a guest on NBC-TV's Jack Paar hour May 14 . . . This Friday, former West Virginia Gov. William Maryland, who recently was discovered working as a Chicago taxi driver, appears on the Paar program . . . Violinist Isaac Stern is the subject of CBS-TV's "Twentieth Century" April 4 . . . Martin Luther King is interviewed on NBC-TV's "Meet The Press" Sunday . . . Same day, CBS-TV's "Camera Three" starts a series of broadcasts surveying the "little" magazines in an era of mass communications.

Britain Is Working To Save Wasteland

By JOSEPH GLADSTONE

LONDON (WPS)—Every year 3,500 acres of British land "die." They are dead to agriculture, to housing, even to industry until they are reclaimed.

Some are under towering heaps of rubbish from the coal mines. Some are under chemical waste from factories. Some are covered by tumbledown buildings.

In an island as small as Britain, 150,000 acres is a lot of precious land, especially when a building explosion is forcing up the price of land.

A hundred years of industrialization have left these scars on Britain—from mining and factories which in many cases have long since passed away, leaving landscapes more worthy of the moon.

In one valley in South Wales, there is no plant life because the ground is still poisoned by fumes from the smelting of copper and zinc years ago.

No visitor to the North of England can avoid seeing the "black mountains" of the coal country. This black "spoil"—unburnable shale from the coal mines—has been tipped there by the thousands of tons.

For some years the British have tinkered with the problem of this wasted land. Now there are signs of a serious attempt to tackle it. George Brown, Labor's economic minister, is appointing regional councils which will run separate areas of the country.

Each of these regions has huge areas of ruined land which could be improved to give a big return for reasonable investment.

In the country's largest county, Yorkshire, new factories now stand on land which, up to a year or two ago, was a huge pit heap. Bulldozers leveled the ground and consolidated it. Nearby are playing fields.

In Wales and Northumberland, where levelling is impossible because of the nearness of buildings, trees have been planted.

In one transformed Welsh valley the black pit heap, which towered above the local village for a century, is now a green mountain in summer, with seats along its paths for lovers.

Canals are another source of waste land—and dangerous at that.

The canals can be filled—sometimes by pushing the pit heaps into them to make a factory site, if nothing else.

HAVE A 'WONDER WARDROBE'

Charles Stewart approves the "wonder wardrobe" at Smith's Men's and Boys' Clothiers, for "Dollar Days," tomorrow, Friday and Saturday. Stewart says Smith's "Has your size in the wardrobe. It consists of two suits, a sportcoat, and two pairs of slacks."

A WISE INVESTMENT:

Shoes with Extra LONG Wearing Soles

The extremely flexible molded soles will outlast the finely crafted uppers. There's no sole stitching to break. There's longer life for these shoes that will get more wear.

This 'Help' Misguided

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—A Tampa policeman recently got too much cooperation from the public.

The officer reported that he was called to a neighborhood to catch a peeping tom. He looked over the area by day and selected a spot where he coud hide out that night while waiting for the tom to begin peeping. He selected a spot where tree branches hung low over a fence and the grass was tall.

He explained to the property owner what he planned to do. The property owner, wishing to be a good citizen, decided to make the officer more comfortable.

When the officer returned, he said, he found that the owner had tidied up the spot by cutting the grass and trimming back the tree branches.

This Butcher Is Trusting

SPLIT, Yugoslavia (AP) — Butcher Petar Brkljacic from Konjsko, a village near this Adriatic Sea city, has a unique way of running his business. He cuts the meat, displays it on the counter, leaves a sharp knife and walks out of the shop.

The customers then serve themselves, weighing the meat and writing in a book what they bought. When the butcher returns, he simply collects the money.

Never Too Old

LANSING (AP)—The State Conservation Department says Arthur Sprague of Harrison, who took out his license in time to go ice fishing before his 97th birthday, is Michigan's oldest active licensed fisherman.

African Elephant Slaughter Slated

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP) — Uganda is suffering a glut of elephants and hippos. At least 2,000 elephants are to be shot in the Murchinson Falls National Park to prevent them destroying their own habitat.

The Scientific and Technical Committee of the East African Wildlife Society, after a meeting in the park, has confirmed the necessity of the slaughter.

The 10,400 hippos living along a 50-mile stretch of the Nile which runs through the park are also overgrazing their habitat. They are to be reduced by about one-third.

U.S. Offers Yemen Help With Water Supply System

SANAA, Yemen (UPI) — The United States has offered to help establish the first modern water supply system for this ancient capital, traditionally the city of the Queen of Sheba.

The Agency for International Development recently proposed to the Yemen government that it be allowed to make an aerial survey of the capital.

This would enable the United Nations to go ahead with a promise to help Yemen get the aid necessary for the water project.

The world body's pledge had been conditional to the government preparing an aerial survey of the capital, which now gets all its water from privately owned wells.

AID built the John F. Kennedy water supply system last summer in the twin capital of Taiz, the first in that city.

Condors Vanishing

VENTURA, (UPI) — The last living giant condors are holding on to a precarious existence on the California coast. Although protected, the Ice Age birds, with wing spans up to 10 feet, have dwindled to about 40.

Penney's Reports $2 Billion In Sales

Two billion dollars worth of sales were reported by the J. C. Penney Co. for the fiscal year ending January 31, the highest volume in the company's 63-year history.

The sales gain over 1963, a 13.4 per cent increase or $245,583,618, exceeded the total company sales for all of 1935 and set a record for a single year's growth, officials reported.

Volume for January, 1965 totaled $142,514,052, an increase of 10.5 per cent over sales reported in January, 1964. It was the 22nd consecutive month of record sales.

With the record high volume for the last fiscal year, Penney's joined four other retail corporations with annual sales of over two billion dollars. They are A & P, Safeway, Kroger and Sears Roebuck.

"You can't just wake up one bright sunny morning and decide that next year your company will sell two billion dollars worth of merchandise," one company official said.

"When you're trying to influence the future, the first place to look is the past."

Penney's reported one billion dollars in sales in 1951, 49 years after the company was established. Reaching the two billion mark took only 13 years more.

The halfway point of $1.5 billion dollars was reached in 1961. With the addition of major expansion programs in the credit, hard goods and catalog departments, sales increased to over 1.701 billion in fiscal 1962 and more than 1.834 in 1963.

The J. C. Penney store at Corte Madera Center had its grand opening September 25, 1958. It had a total of 45,000 square feet of selling and stockroom area. At that time, the store continued the "cash and carry" policies established by James Cash Penney in 1902 when he opened his first "Golden Rule Store" in Kemmerer, Wyo.

In August, 1960, the Corte Madera store, along with 600 others throughout the nation, offered credit to customers.

Firemen Dress In Sunday Best

GALENA, Kan. (AP) — When the John Wilkerson house caught fire here, some of the best dressed firemen in their country answered the fire call.

Th firemen, dressed in the Sunday best, were having an annual firemen's ball in the town hall when the alarm bell sounded. They jumped on the truck still wearing their dress clothes and raced to the blaze.

They put out the fire, then returned to the dance.

Funny Paper Heroes Just Sound Different

NEW YORK (AP) — The comic strip characters are the same, but you might NOT recognize their names unless you understand Spanish.

Savants Say Infants Can See From Birth

NEW YORK (UPI)—The normal newborn infant sees from the moment of birth, according to studies conducted at Harvard University and Boston Lying-In Hospital.

Dr. T. Berry Brazelton and associates said an appropriate stimulus produces a whole complex of visual behavior. Also, response to a visual stimulus was found predictive of sound central nervous sytem function. Their subjects were 86 full-term and 10 premature infants up to one week of age.
